

WAITING FOR THE ENVOYS

Roosevelt Gives No Heed to the Attacks
Made on Him.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—While the progress of the preliminary negotiations for peace between the Far Eastern belligerents is necessarily slow at this stage of the proceedings, it is known that President Roosevelt hopes they may practically be concluded before he shall go to Oyster Bay for the summer. His desire to facilitate in every possible way the negotiations induced him to reconsider his original plan to go to Oyster Bay this week. After his visit to Worcester and Williamstown, Mass., where he will go to attend the commencement exercises of Clarke University and Williams College, he will return to Washington, arriving here Friday morning next. It is expected that if nothing unforeseen shall have occurred in the meantime, more definite announcement of the status of the negotiations may be made soon after his return. There is a possibility even that the selection of the plenipotentiaries of both Russia and Japan may be announced before the President leaves tomorrow night for Massachusetts.

PEACE ENVOYS.
A final determination of the seat of the conference having been reached, the President, in common with the political world, is awaiting the action of the belligerent nations as to their peace envoys. With that part of the program the President naturally has nothing to do. When the selections have been made the names of the respective governments will be communicated to the President. By him they in turn will be communicated to the governments interested and formally announced to the world.

AVERT ENGAGEMENT.
It is the hope here that the arrangements for the conferences may proceed with such facility as to avert a general engagement in Manchuria between the forces of Generals Linévitch and Oyama. The precipitation of a great battle at the present stage of the peace negotiations would be regarded here as a most unfortunate error of judgment—an error which might imperil seriously the negotiations for the conference. Indeed, it is believed in some quarters that whatever might be the result of such a conflict, it would arouse so much bitterness that the negotiations, the status of which is now so favorable, would collapse.

RUSSIAN PRESS.
It can be said that President Roosevelt is giving no heed to irritating personal references to him which have appeared in a part of the Russian press. His conduct of the peace negotiations thus far has been as nearly directly as possible with the emperors of the belligerent powers, and the arrangements concluded represent their personal views as well as his own. The reference to the President by an important St. Petersburg newspaper as a "broker" is regarded here as most unhappy, although it is known in Washington that it does not reflect the sentiments of the St. Petersburg government. Such comments serve, however, to accentuate the desire of the President and of the Powers generally to avert, if possible, another serious engagement on the Manchurian battlefield, lest the conciliatory efforts here may be rendered fruitless through the actions of the Russian press, backed as they may be by the power of the war party in the empire.

RAIN DOES DAMAGE.
MADISON, WIS., June 19.—A down-pour of rain last night flooded the streets, carrying away sidewalks and filling cellars. In the surrounding country thousands of dollars' worth of damage was done, chiefly by hail, which covered the ground inches deep. Hundreds of windows were smashed, roofs were splintered, fruit trees were stripped and grain was pounded into the ground. Some stock and much poultry was killed, and a number of persons were badly injured.

RECEIVED BY POPE.
ROME, June 19.—The Pope today received in private audience Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia.

ONLY EUROPEAN BORN MONARCH OYAMA PREPARES A NOOSE

ALFONSO XIII. OF SPAIN, NEWLY APPOINTED A BRITISH GENERAL BY KING EDWARD.

The young King of Spain is the only European Sovereign who was born a monarch. His father, Alfonso XII, died on November 25, 1885; the present King was born at Madrid, May 17, 1886. His full name is Alfonso Leon Ferdinand Marie Jacques Isidore Pascal Antoine, and his titles include King of Spain, of Castille, of Leon, Aragon, the Two Sicilies, Jerusalem, Navarre, Granada, Toledo, Valencia, Galicia, Majorca, Minorca, Cordova, Murcia, and many other titles.

S. P. IS ACCUSED

Complaint Made Against Railroad at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Complaint has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Southern Pacific Company by the Pacific Coast Jobbers and Manufacturers' Association, alleging a violation of Section 1 of the Interstate Commerce Act.

It is recalled that the State wharfage toll of five cents a ton on freight entering San Francisco over the wharves of that city is charged by the railway company to shippers, although the completion of its coast line gives the company a rail entrance to the city over which it hauls its freight, and it is alleged that the charge collected by the railway from shippers is not turned over to the State.

EXCURSION FOR EDITORS.
LOS ANGELES, June 19.—At 9 o'clock the members of the National Editorial Association and their wives started on an excursion to Mount Lowe, which will be followed by an automobile drive through Pasadena and informal reception at Hotel Maryland. This evening a reception will be tendered in this city. Tomorrow the visitors go to Catalina and on Wednesday they will resume their journey northward, spending a day at Santa Barbara and another at Del Monte and Monterey before reaching San Francisco.

DEATH AND DAMAGE DEALT BY LIGHTNING.

Bolt Strikes Circus Bolt Strikes Great Wagon, Killing One Man.
Oil Tank; Loss $200,000.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 19.—While a circus caravan was passing through Austin, near here, a bolt of lightning struck one of the wagons in which employees of the circus were sleeping. One man was killed outright and five were injured. Three of the injured men are paralyzed, and their condition is serious.

PEACE IS DISCUSSED

Russian and Japanese
Ministers Visit
Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Minister Takahira of Japan had a brief conference with the President this afternoon at the White House.

He declined to say what the nature of this conference was, but that it was of some significance was indicated perhaps by the fact that Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, shortly after Mr. Takahira's departure, also went into conference with the President.

Upon leaving the White House, Count Cassini was equally uncommunicative as to the object of his visit, but said in reply to a question that the names of the plenipotentiaries of Japan had not been furnished to him, nor did he communicate to the President the names of the Russian plenipotentiaries.

The negotiations, he added, were progressing.

TO CONSIDER DEMAND.
PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—The Republican city campaign committee today announced that a sub-committee of three, consisting of Chairman James L. Miles, David Martin and David H. Lane had been appointed to meet a similar committee from the "committee of 21" to consider a demand that the party ticket named for the November election be changed. The committee is also empowered to see the candidates and endeavor to induce them to withdraw.

LIMA, Ohio, June 19.—A 35,000 barrel tank, containing 33,000 barrels of naphtha, valued at $5 a barrel, was struck by lightning today. Less than a thousand barrels of oil could be pumped from the tank before it became too hot to handle. The loss is figured at $200,000.

Trying to Drive Russian Forces Into a Net.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19, 5:30 p. m.—This being Whitmonday, private, as well as public, business is suspended. At the Foreign Office only half a dozen officials were on duty. The officials indicated that any number of plenipotentiaries from one to three is agreeable to Russia. In addition to the names of Ambassador Nelidoff and Baron Rosen, the name of Professor de Maartens, professor of international law at St. Petersburg and a member of the international arbitration court, is now mentioned, and also that of Count Cassini. If the impression which prevails at the Foreign Office that Japan intends to send the Marquis Ito and possibly other statesmen from Japan, is true, it is pointed out that the meeting cannot occur within a month.

In the meantime, so far as indicated here, there have been no movements in the direction of a suspension of hostilities. No confirmation has been received here of the report that negotiations for an armistice had begun between Oyama and Linévitch. On the contrary, the latest news from the front leaves little doubt that Oyama's columns are in motion and disquieting rumors are current here regarding the position of the Russian army according to which Oyama has succeeded in pushing both his flanks far forward respectively opposite Kuan-chengtsu and Kirin, whence he can draw a noose around the troops below this line.

EMPEROR SELECTS HIS CABINET

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 19.—Simultaneously with the appointment of the new cabinet, Emperor Joseph sent an autograph letter to Premier Tisza, regretting that he was unable to select a ministry from the majority, because the latter's program was unjustified and placing the destinies of the nation in the minority's hands. While approving of the majority's proposals for interior administration the Emperor declares he can only accept the demands regarding the army within certain limits. The letter concludes:

"It would afford me great satisfaction if you could pave the way for an understanding on the lines indicated, thus furthering the appointment of a cabinet from the majority."

PAUL MORTON'S STANDING

ATTORNEY GENERAL HAS A PRIVATE TALK WITH THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—A conference was held today between President Roosevelt and Attorney General Moody with respect to the policy to be pursued in the Santa Fe rebate case with which Secretary Morton is connected. At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Moody said he was not in a position yet to discuss the matter.

The President has agreed with the Attorney General as to the publication of the details of the correspondence and it is expected he will supplement in an official announcement the statements made in letters which have been passed between Messrs. Harman and Judson and the Department of Justice.

TWO ARE KILLED IN FIGHT WITH SOCIALISTS

WARSAW, Russian Poland, June 19.—Two persons were killed and thirty-six were wounded in a conflict between troops and Socialists at Lodz yesterday. A procession of 2,000 Socialists carrying red flags was stopped by Cossacks. The Socialists thereupon fired and the Cossacks replied and then charged with drawn swords into the thick of the procession. The disturbances were renewed this morning at a factory in the suburb of Baluty, which the troops have cut off from communication with Lodz.

DIES ABOARD TRAIN.
REDDING, June 19.—J. G. Anderson of Los Angeles, who was en route to Seattle, dropped dead this morning on the overland train between Kennet and Copley. His body was taken off the train at Delta and will be sent to Los Angeles for burial.

POLICE BOARD TO TRY THE CHIEF EVIDENCE WILL BE TAKEN BEARING ON MUTILATION OF THE WINNING LOTTERY TICKET.

Chief of Police Hodgkins will be on the carpet on Wednesday before the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners to explain his part in the mutilation of lottery ticket No. 71,910, which is alleged to have won a prize of $7,500, and which was evidence in the case of Joseph Perry, accused of selling lottery tickets. If the Commissioners decide against Chief of Police Hodgkins there will be a new Chief of Police. If he is found guilty of any intent of wrong doing there will be no change.

WHAT MOTT SAYS.
Mayor Mott stated this morning that he would bring the matter to the attention of the Commissioners on Wednesday, as he thought there was ample cause for investigation. Mayor Mott says he has not made up his mind as to the guilt or innocence of Chief Hodgkins, but says that he will give the evidence in the case his fullest attention.

The predicament in which the present Chief finds himself is a very awkward one. His friends are fearful that in the evidence presented the Commissioners they will find something on which to hang charges sufficiently grave to remove him from office. Mayor Mott would like to see Hodgkins out of office and the only bar to the removal of the present Chief is the votes of Commissioners McElroy and Turner.

If either of these can be made to change their mind there will be a new Chief, with the probabilities of Petersen getting the plum, although there are others who have the lightning rod up.

CHIEF'S LETTER.
Here is a statement of the Chief's position in a letter to Prosecuting Attorney Abe Leach, who first called attention to the mutilated ticket:

Oakland, Cal., June 17, 1905.
"A. P. Leach, Esq., Prosecuting Attorney, Police Court No. 1, Oakland, California.

"Dear Sir: Regarding the mutilated lottery ticket recovered on a search warrant from the saloon of John Perry, 1455 Seventh street, I beg to state that on May 17th, 1905, Senator E. I. Wolfe, attorney-at-law, D. Babbero and C. Isaacs called at my office. Attorney Wolfe introduced Mr. Babbero as the manager of the Louisiana Lottery Company, residing in San Francisco. They stated to me in the presence of Bailiff Moore that one of the tickets recovered on search warrant would, if it had been sold, been a winning ticket, and that they wished to cancel it. I asked them why they desired to cancel it and they stated it was a rule of the company to cancel all winning numbers. That the ticket not being sold was a dead ticket, useless and valueless and at no time could any person collect anything on it. They produced the search warrant and pointing to C. Isaacs said he was the local agent.

"By reason of the fact that the lottery tickets had been seized from C. Isaacs' store on search warrant and the fact of him having possession of the receipt for the lottery tickets among which the particular one in question was, I was under the impression that the ticket was taken from his place of business, and after Isaacs, Babbero and the attorney had each assured me that there would not be any contest or any effort made to get possession of the tickets, I consented that Mr. Babbero cancel the same.

"I brought them to the city prison office and showed Mr. Babbero lottery ticket No. 71,910; he took the ticket and much to my surprise, immediately on receiving it in his hands, tore the numbers from the ticket; it was not my intention to permit anything but the marking or stamping of the word cancelled on the ticket.

"I freely admit that I was indiscreet in the matter. It was done in a hurry, occurring about 12:40 p. m. and had I the slightest idea that there would be a contest or any court proceedings I certainly would not have done it. Believing Isaacs and Babbero to be the only persons interested, and their promise not to contest our right to seize the tickets, I consented to the cancelling, but not the mutilation of the ticket.

"There was no motive or idea of wrong doing on my part; the only consideration being 'Thank you' and I court the fullest investigation, knowing full well it was simply a thoughtless act. Very truly yours,
"S. C. HODGKINS,
"Chief of Police."

Prosecuting Attorney Leach said this morning:

"I shall summon Babbero and the others interested in this case. I have formed no opinion in the case. All that I want is all the facts and if it lies in my power I will bring them out."

Gives Way to Zemstvo
Delegates and Thanks
Them For Work.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19.—The Czar received the Zemstvo delegation today. The reception took place at noon in the Alexander Palace at Peterhof. Prince Troubetskoy, president of the Zemstvo Congress of the Moscow Government, in behalf of the Moscow delegation addressed the Emperor in a long speech in which he described the serious international difficulties which have caused the Zemstvos to approach his Majesty directly. The Emperor was evidently much impressed. M. Fedoroff, representing the St. Petersburg delegation, also spoke. His Majesty replied, expressing deep regret at the great sacrifices consequent on the war and above everything at the disaster to the Russian navy. In conclusion the Emperor said:

"I thank you, gentlemen, for the sentiments expressed and I join in your desire to bring about a new order of things. My personal wish and my will as Emperor to summon a national assembly is unshaken. I await with anxiety the carrying out of this, my will.

"You can announce this to the inhabitants of the towns and villages throughout Russia and from today you will assist me in this new work.

"The National Assembly will, as formerly, establish a united Russia, and the Emperor will be the supreme support of the conditions based on the principle of Russian nationalism."

Upon completing his remarks the Emperor graciously greeted the individual members of the delegation, shaking hands with them and having a few cordial words for each.

The fact that the Emperor not only received the bold, plain-spoken address without so much as an indication of his disapprobation, but expressed full sympathy with the efforts to ameliorate the deplorable state of affairs depicted therein and in the most direct and explicit fashion renewed his promise to summon the representative of the people, made the deepest impression on the delegation.

The delegation is now preparing an account of the audience, which will be presented to the St. Petersburg Duma tomorrow, and in connection with the instructions as well as the imperial wish will be communicated to all the Zemstvos and Mayors of Russia.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY RETAKES A TOWN

HEADQUARTERS OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY, GODZYANA, Manchuria, Sunday, June 18.—The Russian cavalry have retaken the town of Liaoyangwopeng.

The Japanese occupied the village of Sumientscheng, on the main road to Changtu and Mamakal in the morning of June 16, but they did not succeed in crossing the river. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the Russians recaptured Sumientscheng, three squadrons of Japanese retiring in a southwesterly direction.

CANADIAN WOMEN ARE RECEIVED BY ROYALTY

WINDSOR, Eng., June 19.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra gave the heartiest welcome this afternoon to 103 Canadian women and the 175 members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association who arrived yesterday on board the steamer Victoria from Montreal and Quebec, and their presence at Windsor Castle was commended for to-day.

The party was met at the station by seventy carriages provided by the King and was shown the Victoria museum and other sights. The visitors were then received on the east terrace of the castle by their majesties, the King saying so that all could hear: "Welcome to Windsor. I hope you will all enjoy your visit to the old country."

The visitors then sang the national anthem.

REPORT NOT COMPLETED.
NEW YORK, June 19.—Private advice received from Albany indicate today that Superintendent Hendrick's report of his investigation of the Equitable Society will not be completed for several days.

EXPERT SAYS DEAN IS SUPERIOR.

James Spiers Manager of the Fulton Works Makes a Report to the Supervisors.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning the matter of determining as to whether the Dean of the Standard voting machine should be selected for use in the public elections of this county was under consideration. After a letter had been read from James Spiers, manager of the Fulton Iron Works of San Francisco, in which he contrasted the counters of the machines in question and set forth that those of the Dean had a locking feature which was not possessed by those of the Standard.

He wrote that this device prevented tampering with the result, which, he claimed, was an essential not possible with the Standard machine. The document was filed. Mr. Spiers is one of the brightest mechanical experts in the country. He is a graduate from the University of California and is manager of the Fulton Iron Works.

MITCHELL'S ANNOUNCEMENT. The matter was brought up by Chairman Mitchell of the board who said that he had seen the District Attorney, and that that official had informed him that he was unable to report on the question affecting the advertising for the competing machines which had been referred to him, and that he desired to have the matter go over for a week.

George W. Reed and Senator Linnitt, Mr. Mitchell continued, had told him that they would not be able to be here next Monday and requested that the matter be continued for two weeks. This morning machine matter would therefore go over for that period, unless some member of the board had something to say on the subject.

KELLEY'S QUEST. Supervisor Kelley arose and said that in his own behalf and not for the Committee on Voting Machines, he had requested James Spiers of the Fulton Iron Works to examine both the Dean and Standard voting machines as an expert machinist and to report to him on the subject. He had received the report of Mr. Spiers, he said, and would like to file it with the board. Mr. Spiers, he continued, was an expert machinist a graduate of the University of California and the manager of the Fulton Iron Works.

EXPERT SPIERS' REPORT. "W. C. Ralston, President Fulton Iron Works, San Francisco—Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th inst. enclosing a letter from Mr. Kelley requesting me to examine into the mechanical movements of the Dean ballot machine and the United States Standard voting machine.

"I beg leave to submit the following: The essential part of any voting machine is its registering mechanism and I have given this part the most attention.

"In the Dean machine I find the 100 wheel is at all times locked and controlled by the unit wheel, and the unit wheel is locked and controlled by the actuator. The actuator is locked and controlled by the main operating arm which manipulates the curtain lever and at all times during the process of voting when the machine is idle I find the unit counter locked allowing no possibility for the counter to be moved by any external force such as jarring or tampering or unbalanced parts. I also find that should the voters get access to the counting mechanism they could not alter the count by the use of any instrument.

"As to the general design of the machine I find it very compact and all parts accessible and free from any mechanical defects. The parts are so designed as to strength that in my opinion the machine will stand the unusual amount of abuse and can be handled or transported without danger of derangement or breakage. The machine sets close to the ground making it stable and less liable to accident when setting up.

"The interlocking system and grouping mechanism I have examined and found the same care of design applied.

STANDARD MECHANISM MOVES. In the United States Standard machine I find a totally different arrangement of parts. The registering mechanism, as a body, moves.

"The particular slide or actuator operating the unit wheel when operated upon by a voter remains stationary, the non-voting actuator being held in place by friction only, making it possible that if the actuator was loose through wear, there would be a possibility of its moving to such a position, allowing the unit wheel to be absolutely unlocked and free to move. If, when in this position, the unit wheels were unbalanced and loose on shaft the same would revolve and show a false register. There is a further possibility, that if the momentum was severe enough to cause the actuator to be thrown its entire distance, a false register could take place.

"The machine is well designed, with good workmanship. The glass back necessary to protect the counters from manipulation is liable to breakage in transportation and should any particles of this glass get into the soft metal counters it enters the mechanism, rendering it inoperative. The machine is high, necessitated by an under structure to bring the working face to the proper level.

"The Dean machine having an absolutely positive counting mechanism being less liable to damage in shipping, handling and erection, equal in design, material and durability and workmanship to the United States Standard, leaves no question in my mind that it is superior to the United States Standard. Yours respectfully,

JAMES SPIERS. "Manager Fulton Iron Works." The communication was ordered filed.

MITCHELL'S RESOLUTION. "Not knowing that Mr. Kelley had taken this step," said Chairman Mitchell, "I had prepared this resolution."

Clerk Cook then read a resolution which proposed to employ an expert attorney to report upon the legality of the patents used in each of the mechanical devices. He did not know, he said, that Mr. Kelley had taken the step he had in getting the opinion of an expert machinist. Mr. Kelley had not acted for the committee, but the speaker said he would present the resolution in behalf of the committee.

"What committee, Mr. Chairman?" inquired Clerk Cook.

"The Committee on Voting Machines," replied Supervisor Mitchell.

"That is my mistake," said Supervisor Kelley, "and not for the committee."

Supervisor Talcott, after reading the Mitchell resolution, said that he thought the board ought to wait until it should get a report from the District Attorney on the feature of the machine question referred to him.

Chairman Mitchell then withdrew his resolution and said "I want to say that this matter is going over two weeks. We will not work here till 5 o'clock this evening. We have got to take up the question of bids for supplies and the matter of the ballot machines will go over unless there is some objection."

No objection was made and the meeting went over till one week from next Monday.

NARROW ESCAPE

Party in Auto Nearly Plunges Over a Precipice.

An automobile party, consisting of B. Merrill Dudley, Benj. B. Dabney, Miss Brunning and Miss Menninger, had a narrow escape from being hurled to a frightful death over the steep bank of a gorge on the road from San Jose to this city. The scene of the accident was about six miles from Hayward on the Canyon road. In fact, the safety of the entire party depended on just six inches of ground.

Mr. Merrill, the owner of the machine, was acting as chauffeur. The party were plunging along the road at a high rate of speed when suddenly a factious horse reared and threw the party into a collision with the steep bank of the gorge. The machine, a twist and the automobile was hurled over the edge of the precipice.

The machine left the road and plunged straight down the gorge which was fully forty feet deep. Merrill and one of the party, a woman, made a desperate effort to cling to the machine, but they were unsuccessful and only by a hair's breadth escaped a fatal fate.

The fact, two of the wheels of the automobile struck the edge of the precipitous bank and the machine was left in a slanting position. All of the efforts of the party to get the automobile back on the road were futile and it was necessary to call for assistance at one of the neighboring country houses. It required some time to get the machine from its perilous position.

The wonder is that the entire party were not dashed to death. Those who saw the accident stated that possibly all much more would have been sufficient to overturn the machine and send its occupants rolling to the bottom.

All the parties concerned are Oakland people.

MAKES COMPLAINT

Oakland, Cal., June 19, 1905.

Editor TRIBUNE.—On previous occasions I have called the attention of the public to the apparent lack of patriotism of both city and county officials. Recently we have had additional evidence of their inertia when the anniversary of important historical events have been ignored here.

April 19th, the anniversary of the battle of Lexington and Concord where the first gun was fired for American liberty, saw no public recognition of the day in Oakland.

Only last week, on June 17th, occurred the anniversary of the world-famous battle of Bunker Hill. How, or by whom was it observed here? A solitary American flag floated from any public building in city or county charge. And this notwithstanding the Bunker Hill Society, had through the efforts of its members, had flags displayed from both public and private buildings.

On June 17th, I really felt ashamed of the utter lack of patriotic spirit evinced here. Crossing the bay I found thousands of flags fluttering from both public and private edifices in San Francisco. I seemed to have again reached an American city, where love of country and its glorious liberty is not forgotten. It reminded me of the scenes in Boston in 1870, when I, a lad of 17 years, witnessed a ruckus and march to Bunker Hill.

On that day the 1st General Benjamin F. Butler, was orator of the day. Unnumbered thousands of people joined in the anniversary exercises and into the minds of the children was planted a reverence for the glorious deeds of their forefathers.

In the days of Grecian supremacy, and later when Rome was Mistress of the then known world the public leaders of the nation and private citizens advised the youth of the land invariably advised them never forget the deeds of their illustrious ancestors, the milestones of their country's greatness.

We ought to take a lesson from the book of history. We should not forget the deeds of our forefathers. Bunker Hill, where American patriots faced British bayonets and compelled the retreat of a King's troop. We should not forget that we are Americans; nor should we forget to fly our flag with its glorious stars and stripes, and its banner of brilliant hues on anniversary days, such as those of Lexington, Concord, Bunker Hill, Saratoga and Yorktown.

BOY IS RUN OVER

There was a collision this morning at Ninth and Clay streets between the Cape Ann bakery wagon and a little Louis Richmond, 7 years old, who was in which the lad was knocked down and out and the wagon passed over his body and his wheel smashed the injured boy's head.

The driver, who was picked up by 7th Street, and hurried to the Receiving Hospital and given immediate attention. He was badly bruised and was bleeding in a number of places.

According to the statement of Mayor James D. Harbo, the Cape Ann bakery wagon, which was driven by Louis Richmond, 7 years old, was running on Ninth street when it collided with the Cape Ann bakery wagon.

WIDOW OF CHINESE?

Married to This Mongolian?

Chew Chu, the Chinese merchant, did not cease to cause trouble by removing himself by means of a pistol bullet. Although, as far as he was concerned, his life in this earthly affairs ended with his suicide Friday afternoon, he left a wife and a store full of wares, and, it is asserted, a large number of creditors, all of which at the present time are factors which have added to the complications arising from his sudden death.

In order to preserve the property intact, Public Administrator George Grav lost no time in getting his lock and seal on the store on Broadway street, between Washington and Broadway, and this morning he applied to the courts for special letters of administration on the estate of Chew Chu.

It is asserted, however, that when the matter of the regular letters comes before the court, the widow of Chew Chu, who is known as Mrs. Jennie Stewart, will claim that she is the deceased's regular widow, and not only entitled to administer upon his estate but that she is entitled to his property.

The widow of Chew Chu defends her claim of having married a Chinese by the statement that he was good to her. They have lived together for years and she has been his only wife. She has no action in the press and wrote a statement to the effect that he was as good as dead when he was shot.

She had known, and that she prepared him to meet of them. If, however, the court should find that she is not the widow of Chew Chu, she will have to give up her claim to the property.

Chew Chu also left a note in which he stated that he had paid all of his debts, with instructions that his widow should be given to Jennie Stewart. The note, however, was not dated and members of the press press state that this is not a will, while on the other hand, with no one to dispute her claim to the property, it gives her a long lead in any contest of having murdered a Chinese.

Attorney John DeLaney was granted his petition for special letters on behalf of the widow of Chew Chu. The estate has passed into the hands of the Public Administrator. The creditors, whom it is rumored, were after Chew Chu and whose demands finally caused him to shoot himself in order to rid himself of the importunate creditors, have as yet made no move in the courts. The estate is of unknown value, but consists of a valuable collection of goods that have not as yet been appraised.

ROUTINE OF THE SUPERVISORS

PETITIONS AND LICENSES HANDLED BY THE BOARD THIS MORNING.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning all the members were present.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES. A communication was received from Miss C. A. Whitney, secretary of the Associated Charities, setting forth that that organization had unanimously decided to undertake the investigation of applicants for outside relief for the county at the rate of $50 per month. She asked that all persons now receiving or who expect to receive relief be required to register.

Supervisor Mitchell said that it had no objection to the registration of applicants for county relief should register.

RUBBER STAMPS. A requisition of the County Auditor for rubber stamps and code slips for 1904 was granted.

LIQUOR LICENSES. The following applications for liquor licenses were set for hearing July 10: Eugene Robinson, Elgin and Howard Streets, Fruitvale, Henry Benz, Castro Valley, G. Naskha, Elmhurst, J. J. Rose, Alameda, N. P. Alvord, San Francisco.

POLL TAX LIENS. Poll tax liens were cancelled on the property of the following: W. N. Farr, J. H. Kieley, James H. Harrold, Fred Rose.

GOING TO ALASKA. Constable Bart Homestead was granted a leave of absence from the State for sixty days, from June 20 to August 19, to Alaska on business.

GOES TO PORTLAND. On Monday Supervisor Kelley, Judge Cone was granted a leave of absence for thirty days, during which time his home will visit the Portland fair and other pleasure resorts in that section.

COUNTY INFIRMARY. Dr. Clark, superintendent of the County Infirmary, reported that there are 331 patients in that institution. He stated that during the month and sixty-eight had left or been discharged since the report of last month.

COMPLIMENT FOR U. C.

BERKELEY, June 19.—A distinct compliment has been paid to the University of California by the educational department of Uruguay, which has modeled its principal university after that of the California institution. This information is contained in a letter sent out from the Legation of Uruguay at Washington.

Following the idea of organizing the best educational system possible, Uruguay has been modeled on the State University at Berkeley for a number of professors and instructors. Teachers are also wanted with the idea of organizing second grades of instruction at Montevideo.

Good salaries are attached to the positions, which will pay from $5,000 to $8,000 a year each in gold. It is pointed out in the letter sent to the University that living rates in Montevideo are quite reasonable.

GIVE THANKS. Oakland, June 19, 1905.

Editor TRIBUNE.—Accept our thanks for the courtesy extended to us by your valuable paper, while arrangements were in progress for the benefit entertainment given for Joseph Castillas, who was run over on March 22nd of this year. The evening's receipts were seventy-one dollars and fifty cents, clear of expenses.

We are also indebted for assistance rendered by Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Sullivan, Mr. C. Kirk, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. M. J. Keller, Father Burke, the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society and many others, which is hereby gratefully acknowledged. Yours truly,

MRS. G. O. E. PERKINS.

MRS. A. KOWER.

WOMAN INVOLVED

Young Man Leaves Berkeley Home Very Suddenly.

BERKELEY, June 19.—Since the mysterious disappearance of Edward G. Trimble from his home at 2027 Francisco street last Wednesday afternoon, the name of Mrs. William Dart, the wife of William Dart of 2210 University avenue, has become an element in the affair that suggests the existence of a lively romance between the two people.

When Mr. and Mrs. Dart were seen today and asked about their connection with the disappearance of Trimble, they eagerly denied any knowledge of the whereabouts of Trimble or the reason of his sudden departure from here, but they evinced a very lively solicitude as to the amount of information that the public had in the matter.

Major Joel G. Trimble, the young man's father, admits that his son left because of complications with a woman, but declines to reveal the identity. Intimate friends, on the other hand, of both young Trimble and Mrs. Dart, insist that Dart threatened to shoot Trimble unless the latter left Berkeley immediately.

This Trimble did last Wednesday in a manner that surprised every one. Without notifying his employers, the West Berkeley Lumber Company, for whom he worked as a teamster, Trimble abandoned his team with a load of lumber in a vacant lot in North Berkeley, and without even drawing nearly a month's pay that was due to him, he left town and has not been seen since.

Trimble was married about a year ago to Miss Margaret Rioridan of San Francisco, who had been working here as a servant girl. The young couple lived together about six months, after which he secured a divorce on the grounds of neglect, alleging that she left him and his home almost every day to go to San Francisco.

Trimble is the son of Major Joel G. Trimble, First Cavalry, U. S. A., who resides at 2027 Francisco street. The son had been living with his parents since his divorce.

ODD FELLOWS TO CELEBRATE

TWO GRAND WARDENS WILL BE CHOSEN ON JUNE
TWENTIETH

As already announced in THE TRIBUNE, Tuesday night, June 20, will be remembered among the Alameda county Odd Fellows as a time of unusual rejoicing over the election of two grand wardens—one from the male branch and the other from the female branch of California Odd Fellowship.

A carriage will convey the wardens—Superior Judge F. B. O'Brien and Mrs. Ella Van Cotte—to Maple Hall. It will be preceded by the Patriarchs Militant of Oakland and San Francisco, cantons 11 and 5.

Colonel C. H. Weaver of Alameda, General H. O. Brewer of San Francisco, Reuben H. Lloyd, Superior Judge Hill, L. V. Downes, Will Valley, the Grand Marshal, the English orchestra, Mrs. Howe, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary C. Donohue, secretary of the Rebekah Assembly of California, will grace the occasion and make it intensely interesting for all Odd Fellows and their wives and Rebekahs and their husbands, as well as for the guests of honor, the families of the new wardens.

Hall decorations are being attended to by the Rebekahs under the leadership of Mrs. Edna McCowan of Oakland. The ladies have by common consent agreed to remove their hats during the rendering of the program, thus enabling all to witness the proceedings and the decorations.

Floor managers will consist of James T. Mrs. Mrs. E. W. McKinnon, Mrs. E. W. McKinnon, S. Samuels and C. W. Wilkins.

WILL TAKE PART IN THE PARADE

HARRY W. HOLMES,

Council Commander of Woodman Lodge of Hayward.

HAYWARDS, June 19.—Arrangements have been commenced by the members of the local lodge of Woodman to take part in the great Fourth of July parade. There was a meeting of the camp last Friday evening and the invitation of the committee to have a float in the procession was accepted.

W. J. Ramage, Town Constable, was appointed a committee of one to secure four horses and a large wagon for the purpose. The other members will assist in the building and decorating of the structure that is to represent the Woodmen.

FAMOUS PICTURES AT JOAQUIN MILLER'S HOME "THE HEIGHTS".

COUNT GEYZA S. DE PERHACS, WIFE, SON AND LITTLE DAUGHTER. THE YOUNG LADY IS ALICE FERNANDEZ, AN ARTIST.

An interesting and romantic character is Count Geyza S. de Perhacs, the artist, whose studio is high from the ground among the trees on Joaquin Miller's inviting place, "The Heights," back of East Oakland. Count Perhacs is a native of Merenz, Hungary, and comes from a famous family. He is the possessor of a famous Raphael picture presented to his father by Pope Plus IX. The Count is getting ready to exhibit his famous picture, "Ingerback of East Oakland. Count Perhacs is a native of Merenz, Hungary, and is just about finished. The canvas is 10x14 and shows 150 figures. The picture caused a great deal of talk in New York. The Count entertained a number of friends yesterday. He lives with his family in a cabin on the "Heights," and is a thorough Bohemian.

JOHN DREW AT MACDONOUGH THEATER.

The eminent comedian John Drew, supported by the very best company that could possibly have been selected, will appear at the Macdonough Theater tomorrow and Wednesday evenings in his latest New York success, "The Duke of Killcrankie."

This latest effort from the pen of Captain Marshall enjoyed a wonderfully popular engagement at the Empire Theater, New York, last fall and winter and one of the most decided hits of the entire season and has since then been royally received in all of the large cities of the country. It is delightfully written and brims over with humor in every line and remarkably droll situations follow one another with rapidity. Fanny Brough, Margaret Dale and Ferdinand Gottschalk with Mr. Drew are responsible for most of the fun. "The Duke of Killcrankie" is a performance that none should miss seeing and unusual interest has already been manifested in the engagement. Good seats may still be had.

KILLED AND HURT IN EXPLOSION

SHOWER OF SHATTERED STEEL
DROPS ON THESE MEN.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Two deaths already have resulted from the shower of shattered steel and the clouds of steam which followed the boiler explosion near the banks of the Hudson river on the upper West Side yesterday.

The victims are Joseph Morgan, colored, a fireman, whose death resulted from shrapnel, and Frank Marone, 18 years old, Marone, with three companions, was swimming in the Hudson when the shower of debris fell over the water. He was not seen again and the police say it is certain that he was struck by a flying missile and instantly killed or made helpless and drowned.

Four other persons who were injured are in a hospital in a serious condition, and two others who were treated by physicians are under arrest and will be held pending an investigation of the explosion. One of the men held by the police is Daniel Barry, assistant engineer at the Subway Construction Company's power-house, where the explosion occurred. He is seriously injured. The other is John L. Keaveny, who says he is only a record clerk for the company and says he had nothing to do with the operation of the plant.

RAILWAY TRAFFIC IN FINE CONDITION

CHICAGO, June 19.—The traffic officials of both Eastern and Western roads universally report that business is humming; that fine crop prospects and general prosperity everywhere, in all probability, will make it possible for the railroads to break all records this year. A large volume of freight is moving in both directions, although this is usually regarded as the dull season of the year. The big business of the railroads indicates that the country as a whole is rich and prosperous and there is a good consumptive demand.

If present promises are realized the prosperity will be continued for another year at least. There is every reason just now to expect that it will be considerably augmented by the year's crops and may continue indefinitely. Passenger business is also highly satisfactory. The summer tourist business has begun to move in volume and promises to be larger than in any previous year. Commercial business is very heavy. The general confidence that prevails everywhere is an incentive to manufacturers and jobbers to keep large forces of men constantly in the field soliciting orders. The volume of promissory travel is quite heavy and promises to increase rather than diminish.

PRESSMEN HOLD CONVENTION

MEET IN ANNUAL SESSION AND TRANSACT PRELIMINARY BUSINESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—The annual convention of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union of North America, met here today, and will hold daily sessions during the week. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Schmitz, W. J. French, president of the San Francisco Labor Council, and Chairman Phillips of the Convention Committee. About 200 delegates were in attendance, and much interest was manifested in the preliminary proceedings. The various unions affiliated with the organizations were reported to be prospering and a largely increased membership was reported.

President Higgins, of Charleston, Mass., is a candidate for re-election, but is opposed by John Rolson of Cincinnati, and Frank Pampusch of Denver. Secretary-Treasurer W. J. Webb, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has a rival for the office in Philip H. Ayres, of New York City. Pittsburgh seems to lead as the next convention city.

This evening the local unions will receive the visitors at Alcazar Hall, and the women of the auxiliary will attend the theater. Tomorrow there will be a drive about the city, and on Thursday an excursion on the bay. On Thursday evening a banquet will be served the pressmen.

FOR PROMOTION OF FOREIGN COMMERCE

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The Department of Commerce and Labor has completed preparations for sending five special agents abroad to investigate trade conditions, with the object of promoting the foreign commerce of the United States. The five agents selected are:

Professor Lincoln Hutchinson, University of California; Charles M. Pepper, Burrill, Raymond F. Crist and Dr. Edward Bedloe. As the appropriation is only $20,000 it was decided to limit the several fields of investigation in order that the best results may be obtained for presentation to Congress early in the approaching session. Burrill and Crist will go to the Orient. Professor Hutchinson will go to South America and Edward Bedloe will go to Europe and Africa. The half tone illustrations and descriptive articles give a very clear idea of where the best properties are located in that new mining territory. The Chinese exclusion act is discussed editorially and should be read by the country's lawmakers.

The late comers at theaters and the voter's duty at primary elections are other articles of interest.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs gives a very comprehensive summary of foreign conditions.

CELEBRATION OF HOLY GHOST

PORTUGUESE TAKE PART IN CEREMONY, DANCING AND MERRYMAKING.

The celebration held yesterday by the members of the Portuguese Society of the Holy Ghost in I. D. E. S. Hall at the corner of Eighteenth and East, Sixteenth street, East Oakland, would make one fee as though he was in Portugal over 800 years ago instead of in the United States in the twentieth century. The hall was filled with over 400 people, representatives of the Portuguese population for miles around. The scene had some of the aspects of a country fair. Wagons and booths where all kinds of things were sold and where magicians fooled and amused the eager crowds lined the streets for blocks.

The ceremonies which have been conducted for over 800 years took place in the hall. Feasting and dancing, in which figured the primitive steps of ages gone by, interspersed the more serious parts of the celebration.

DATES FAR BACK

The original of these yearly festivals is dated back to 1117. In that year a famine broke out in Portugal and the King, D. Diogo I, and his wife, the Queen, prayed for help. Many of the poorer classes died every day. Their crops had failed and cattle died. The King and Queen ordered a special mass in the hope of obtaining relief. The legend goes that on the next day a ship was washed upon the shores of the Tagus. There was no crew on the vessel but it was crowded with cattle and bags of grain. The queen then distributed the food to the starving people. She even sold her crown to supply the people.

From this comes the name of the festival. The Feast of the Crown and ever since it has been celebrated yearly. A cathedral was founded in Lisbon and the Society of the Holy Ghost was founded in honor of Trinity Sunday, the day upon which the deliverance occurred. At the time of the origin of this society the members pledged themselves to keep the benediction delivered that had been accorded them in the minds of the coming generations. The society is the Immaculate De Vitorio Espirito Santo. It has branches in Portugal, Africa, India, in the Azores and in Honolulu and this country.

COUNCIL HAS HONOR

Council of the Portuguese Society had the honor this year of being the directors of the festival to which all the other councils were invited. They began their preparations last Thursday by killing sixty three bees and baking hundreds of loaves of bread. The hall was elaborately decorated with flowers and the American and Portuguese flags.

The celebration proper began on Saturday night. A procession headed by two bands and by firework marchers to the house where the precious crown was kept. This crown is made of gold and silver and adorned with diamonds and pearls. From this place it was taken to the hall and placed under a canopy under which 200 candles burned. Feasting and merrymaking then followed until early morning.

At 8:30 in the morning a grand procession took place in which thousands of people participated. The procession was headed by the band and followed by the children of the society, the men, the women and the children of the society. They then took special cars which carried them to the church on Chestnut street where a solemn high mass was celebrated. The mass was presided over by Rev. Father F. A. Bergeretti. The sermon was preached by Rev. J. Galli who acted as subdeacon. The dean was Rev. J. Kerns.

BANQUET TONIGHT

After the mass the procession marched back to the hall and continued their merrymaking. Speeches were made and prizes given to the children who had participated in the celebration. The remainder of the day and night feasting and merrymaking was in order. The upper part of the hall being cleared for dancing.

The close of the festival will be marked by a banquet tonight at which all the members of the society and their families will attend.

STORY'S VISIT

There is a welcome little member in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gray, 335 Harrison street. He is the first to arrive although his father owing to absence from home is not yet aware of the happy event. The mother was formerly Miss Helen Mante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Mante of this city.

"KING CALF" REGALS

In Quarter Sizes

The "size between" is an exclusive Regal feature and it is working a revolution in the fitting of shoes. Hereafter you will never have to decide which is the less of two evils and try to be content with a loose 8 or a tight 7½, for there's a perfect-fitting 7¾ "in between".

The Regal fitting-system of Quarter Sizes, a full factory equipment of special lasts for making ankle-fitting Oxford shoes, and "King Calf"—the best upper leather ever produced—combine to make the Regal actually better than a "six dollar shoe at the wholesale price."

Everybody is beginning to specify either russet or black "King Calf". It marks the coming abandonment of patent leather for day-time wear. The best-dressed people everywhere are now wearing shoes that have to be polished, and reserving patent leather for strictly evening use. In "King Calf" you have absolutely the softest, toughest, coolest leather ever tanned for shoes. One price and new—any other, anywhere—$3.50.

"BARON"
Lace Oxford

One of the most striking of our new styles. Not extreme and yet very dressy. Medium extension sole. Made in both Russet and Black King Calf.

W N Jenkins, General Secretary of the California Christian Endeavor Union, will have charge of a special train which will leave Third and Townsend streets, San Francisco, tomorrow evening at 6:45 for Santa Barbara, where the State Convention will be held from the 21st to the 23rd inst.

Hundreds of delegates from all parts of the State will be in attendance. The meetings will be held in a large tent, seating three thousand people.

A chorus of four hundred voices will furnish the music.

There are at present in California a membership of nearly forty thousand Endeavorers and the membership of the world numbers over four million.

UNION MEN HOLD METCALF ON THE ELECTION

DIRECTORS CHOSEN FOR THE CO-OPERATIVE MEAT COMPANY.

SAYS THAT CONGRESS IS ONLY ORGANIZATION TO GIVE RELIEF.

WASHINGTON June 19.—There is just another little rift in the Cabinet that was caused by the open door speech of Secretary of War Taft in regard to the Chinese and the attitude of Secretary Metcalf who has had charge of Chinese exclusion administration. The question arose over representations made to the White House that the laws were being too rigidly enforced and that hardships were being imposed on innocent people of the excluded classes.

As a member of Congress Mr. Metcalf was instrumental in enacting the present stringent Chinese exclusion laws and he is known to share the sentiment of the Pacific Coast against the presence of Chinese in this country. The law fixes the penalty for enforcement of the exclusion laws upon the President and Secretary Metcalf desiring to make their enforcement as stringent as possible it may be a wide difference with inter-esting results.

Secretary Metcalf directs the enforcement of the laws and he is of the opinion that they are not rigidly enforced so far as students and merchants are concerned. He believes that the Chinese resort to duplicity and deception in claiming to belong to the classes allowed to enter and that care is necessary. The construction of the law is in the hands of the head of the Department of Commerce and Labor and it is claimed by the Southern cotton mill men and others who are now seeking to have the enforcement of the law ameliorated that Secretary Metcalf could do much to soften the wrath of the Chinese if he felt so disposed.

Secretary Metcalf has taken the position that no relief to the Chinese can be expected except through the act of Congress and he has dismissed the subject.

ABOUT BOYCOTT

Manager C. D. Schmidt of the whole sale department on Twelfth street reported that the boycott instituted last Monday by the Citizens Alliance against those restaurants whose proprietors had signed the Cooks and Waiters agreement was being fairly well maintained. The boycotted eating houses reported their meat from the Co-operative without exception. The Citizens Alliance Board of Trade rescinded the action last Thursday night.

While the unionized firms were forced to procure meat from him Manager Schmidt did not raise the price of the commodity but he did cut the rate of the Co-operative by the amount of the boycott. This helped the cause of unionism and rendered material aid to the cooks and waiters in their conflict. He said if we had taken advantage of the necessity of the restaurants they would have been forced to break their agreements with the union and hurt the organization considerably.

Since the boycott has been removed only a few of the union places have returned to the old butchers. Fourteen permanent customers have been won for the Co-operative by the abortive move of the Citizens Alliance.

From two to four carloads of meat are being used weekly by the corporation. The manager reported that the quality of the goods is improving also. There were over 500 shareholders present at the meeting yesterday.

BOHN LECTURES

Frank Bohn, the national organizer of the Socialist Labor party, gave an interesting lecture last night at the headquarters of the Building Trades Council. His topic was Socialism and the Labor Union. A large number of union men and women were present and took an interest in the arguments of the orator.

SAN LEANDRO MAKES IT 9 STRAIGHT

The San Leandros made it nine straight yesterday by defeating the Gallagher-Marsh team from San Francisco by the score of 7 to 4.

O'Banion pitched his usual strong game allowing only four hits.

Buckley also played a fine game and was there with the willow getting two nice hits.

Whalen in the right garden, played fast ball and led the team in batting getting three hits.

Haywards fans were well represented here and it is rumored they dropped $50.00.

ESCAPE WITHOUT CLOTHING

FAMILY BARELY HAS TIME TO LEAVE ITS BURNING HOME.

POINT RICHMOND June 18.—Fire broke out a few minutes before ten o'clock last night in the first of the row of twenty cottages on First avenue generally known locally as Smoky Row. Before the fire had been in progress twenty minutes it was feared the entire row of houses would be wiped out so fiercely did the flames rage, but the firemen succeeded in checking the spread of the conflagration by themselves partially destroying the second house in the row. The total loss to the property will not exceed $3000 the loss to the tenant of the burned building being several hundred dollars additional.

The house in which the fire started is close to the intersection of First and Richmond streets and was occupied by a family named Brent, the head of which is employed in the Santa Fe repair shops. Not a single article of furniture and only the scantiest supply of clothing was saved. The family had retired just before the fire began and its members had barely time enough to get out of the house alive.

For a few minutes four of the houses were on fire but when the firemen arrived they succeeded in checking the flames to the first building.

The row of twenty houses is the property of the Nicholl Land Company of Oakland and it was stated here last night that the insurance would fully cover the loss to the owners of the property.

Merchants and residents here are much interested in the reports from Van Buren street station that the fire was caused by a gas leak from a gas pipe in the basement of one of the houses. The fire was caused by a gas leak from a gas pipe in the basement of one of the houses.

LOOKING FOR SCALPS.

The juvenile baseball team formerly known as the Richmond Juniors, but now calling themselves the Hamiltons have secured a new team of players. The new team is composed of the following players: Hamilton, manager; Allen, captain; Paulsen, Rueser, McPeck, Rullen, Davis, Hitchcock, Fraser, Smallwood, substitutes Walker, McLean, O'Brien.

SPECULATE ON SENTENCE

There is a great deal of speculation concerning the term in prison Zimmerman will get for his connection with the stock market. The law fixes the penalty for robbery at not less than one year in the penitentiary, the maximum being life imprisonment. It being an aggravated case and there being a prior conviction a life sentence would not be surprising.

TAKEN TO ASYLUM

James Stephenson, the man who was taken to the Richmond hospital, was examined on Tuesday by Drs. Rickley and Brown and committed to Stockton State Hospital by the judge of the Superior Court. Stephenson says he will not work or beg and will starve himself to death. He has a mania for wandering off alone without food or shelter and has a sudden attack of violence.

Bullying Sometimes Gets Punished

After the war of 1870-71, France recuperated from her disastrous defeat so rapidly and paid off the enormous indemnity exacted by Germany so quickly that Bismarck was piqued, and he deliberately planned to force France into another war for the purpose of further breaking the power and spirit of the French nation. His atrocious scheme was blocked, however, by its premature exposure in the London Times, which was prompted by the diplomatic enemies of the German Chancellor.

Bismarck has passed away, but his idea that Germany should thwart and humble France at every opportunity seems still to dominate German policy. Kaiser William, an able prince and in many respects a good ruler, seems to be more and more impressed with the Bismarckian idea the older he grows. France appears to be perpetually in his mind. It pains him to see the republic prosperous, and he regards each manifestation of its growth and power as an additional menace to Germany. The Russo-French alliance kept him on a nervous strain for several years. The recent entente between Great Britain and France has given him more spasms. He is trying to baffle French designs in Northern Africa, and is doing it in a way that shows a disposition to be deliberately ugly. He wants it to appear to the whole world that Germany has made France take a back seat. He wants it understood abroad that he is cock of the walk.

Well, he may get rudely surprised. His aggressive tactics may finally force France to fight. Should war come, the contest would not be a repetition of the ill-starred Sedan campaign. The German army is slightly superior to France's in point of numbers, but the war between Russia and Japan has again proved that mere numbers do not always win. The French have always been a warlike nation, and their flags have more than once fluttered in Berlin. It was no idle vaunt when Napoleon's hussar boasted that he had "fought the men and kissed the women in fourteen kingdoms." From time immemorial the French have been a fighting race, and they have seen the inside of every capital, in Europe, London, Stockholm and St. Petersburg alone excepted. Again and again they have surprised the world by exhibitions of patriotic valor. In the days of the First Revolution the raw peasantry defeated and drove from their land the disciplined armies of Prussia and Austria. After the successive defeats inflicted by Marlborough, they rallied and put up a fight at Malplaquet that astounded and chagrined Prince Eugene and the conqueror of Blenheim. They were driven from the field, it is true, but they retired in good order fighting with a resolute front a foe flushed with repeated victories and greatly outnumbering them.

History may repeat itself. Jena and Auerstadt were as fateful to Prussia as Gravelotte and Sedan were to France. William may force a war on France only to find the French fully prepared and nerved by high resolve to fight to the last gasp. In the sublimated patriotism of her sons Japan has revived the heroic age, and has given fresh inspiration to weaker people to stand up for their rights against unjust aggression. The German Emperor had better have a care how he struts about with a chip on his shoulder. He may suffer the humiliation that was inflicted on his great grandfather Frederick William.

Perhaps the Czar objected to the peace negotiations being conducted in Manchuria because Oyama might have to lick Linevitch before he could make him see the point. The Russian army has had all the licking it needs at present.

One of the features of the Fourth of July celebration in Sacramento will be a procession of "horribles." What connection is there between our national anniversary and such a procession? What was there about the signing of the Declaration of Independence that suggests burlesque and horseplay? Such exhibitions degrade patriotic celebrations. They cater to low tastes and are senseless as an expression of popular pride in the great event which the celebration of the Fourth of July commemorates. It is time such exhibitions of freakish vulgarity were dispensed with.

Commenting on the fact that Banker Bigelow received sentences of ten years each running concurrently, the Sacramento Bee says these concurrent sentences are a fraud and a sham. So they are. They are worse indeed, for they are so senseless that they deceive nobody. Smith, the defaulting Tax Collector of San Francisco, received two ten-year sentences running concurrently. His two sentences will not be a bar to his getting the credits allowed for good behavior under the Goodwin Act. He can be paroled under the rules of the Prison Board after he has served three years, and that is probably what the public may expect. A prison term of six and one-half years and actual imprisonment of perhaps three years will be the outcome of the farce of sentencing a man to serve two terms within the same period. He would be no worse for a hundred sentences of the same sort. Why does the law (or its angels and ministers of grace) countenance such a palaver with common sense? Why go through proceedings which are farcical and record judgments that are nugatory on their face?

The politicians who are speculating over the announcement that Colonel Dan Buras will take a hand in politics would not show so much trepidation if they knew what cards the Colonel will draw to.

If it happens to be the body of some other fellow that Admiral Sigsbee brings back from France we trust the spirit of John Paul Jones will take the will for the deed. Anyway, it can matter little to the dead hero now where his remains lie; and, besides, it is his memory the American people are trying to honor. It is a habit we Americans have. We spend much money in honoring after death men we treat rather shabbily when alive. "I am hungry and Congress sends me a sword," bitterly said General Rogers Clark, who saved to the United States the country west of Pittsburgh lying between the Ohio, the Mississippi and the Great Lakes. A vote of thanks and a sword were the recompense, in old age and poverty, for the man who had preserved an empire for his country. But Congress has voted money to erect a monument to his memory. We are strong on monuments, perhaps because they gratify our national love of display, but we are rather short in making provision for our heroes while living.

Dispatches from the Japanese front report a series of minor Japanese successes recently. The Russian war office gives out a report of only one trifling skirmish in which the Japanese are alleged to have been worsted. Apparently the old device of trying to make light of disaster by concealing it still has its charm for the Russian official mind.

The managers of the Portland Exposition are not following the example of the management of the St. Louis Fair in closing the gates on Sunday. They not only keep the Fair open on Sunday, but they have reduced the price of admission on that day one-half. No doubt this will greatly swell the Sunday crowds and add considerably to the receipts. Sunday closing in St. Louis cut down the receipts and had a disastrous effect on many of the concessions. The Sabbatharians made a strong effort to have the Portland Fair close on Sunday, but the experience of St. Louis made it useless. In particular the working people of Portland wanted the Fair open on Sundays because it enabled them to visit it with their families without losing time from their employment. The reduction in the price of admission was made to enable them to see the Fair at the lowest possible cost.

Metcalf and Taft's Criticism.

Secretary Metcalf does not take kindly to Secretary Taft's suggestion that the Chinese exclusion act should be more liberally construed and less rigidly enforced. He believes laws should be interpreted according to their letter and enforced according to their tenor and purpose. He does not subscribe to the theory that laws are to be stretched or contracted to suit the convenience of those charged with their enforcement. Secretary Metcalf is right. The law should be enforced to the letter; or repealed, or modified. If it is too drastic, let it be amended. To what extent it remains for Congress to say, not what an executive officer may think. When the law was enacted it was with the avowed object of keeping out all Chinese who were not merchants, students and travelers. So many Chinese had improperly entered the country under the false pretense of belonging to some one of these three classes that both the law and its enforcement were required to be stringent if exclusion is to be made effective. Secretary Taft voices a demand that the law be made ineffective by tax enforcement. It is a somewhat singular suggestion coming from a Cabinet officer who has been a judge.

But the matter touches Secretary Metcalf nearly in another respect. His subordinates are charged with the enforcement of the exclusion law. If the law is unjustifiably strained in its enforcement, or twisted by wrong construction from its letter and purpose, it is a reflection on the head of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

In demanding a laxer enforcement of the law Secretary Taft rather broadly charged that it was being enforced with unnecessary harshness and rigidity. Whether he meant that the law is too severe or that its enforcement is too severely strict is not clear from his language. But if he meant the latter, he reflected on the subordinates of Secretary Metcalf. If he meant the former he criticized the wisdom of Congress.

Mr. Metcalf avoids all controversy by standing on the proposition that the law was enacted to be enforced, and that he is enforcing it in accordance with its letter and intent. However, it is unusual for one Cabinet officer to criticize the methods pursued by the subordinates of another Cabinet officer. Secretary Taft seems to take "sitting on the lid" a little too seriously.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S LEAGUE TO HOLD MEETING.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Business Women's National League, formed last year at the St. Louis Exposition, will hold its second annual convention here early in July. A large attendance is expected from the West. The league numbers among its members doctors, lawyers, writers, artists, stenographers, and workers in all branches of industry. Among its objects is the establishment of a home on Chesapeake Bay which will be open all the year, where sick or tired members can go for pleasure or recuperation at slight expense. The league has already a ranch near Denver for the use of its members.

FAKE HAIR PREPARATIONS
Do Hair No Good, But Often Cause It to Fall Out.

Many hair preparations are "fake" because they are merely scalp irritants. They often cause a dryness, making the hair brittle and, finally, lifeless. Dandruff is the cause of all trouble with hair. It is a germ disease. The germ makes outcure scales as it digs to the root of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing it to fall out. To cure dandruff, the germ must be killed. To destroy the cause, you remove the effect. Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ, thereby leaving the hair to grow luxuriantly. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to "The Herpicide Company," Detroit, Michigan. Bowman & Company special agents.

THE WAIL OF THE TRAMP CAT.

(As a result of the use of air-tight garbage cans in Oakland, the vagrant cats are dying of starvation, and the city is threatened with an invasion of rats.—News Item.)

I am dying, Oakland, dying—
Mark the death damp on my brow!
In the gutter I am lying,
Far too weak to utter "Meow!"

For my daily bread is lacking,
Cut off by the garbage man,
And no more my lips are smacking
Since the lid is on the can.

Death, the tyrant, now is near me:
Stares me grimly in the face,
While the rats no longer fear me,
And their number grows apace.

Soon they'll swarm about the city,
Gnawing, crunching all in sight,
Dead, alas, each vagrant "Kitty"—
None to put the rats to flight.

Oakland, then, in desperation,
Like the town of Hamelin old,
Vain will wait for liberation
By some magic piper bold.

Feed us! Food for us discover!
Give us strength to catch the rats!
From the can remove the cover!
Fitty, Oakland. Save your cats!

And she is commanded by an admiral from Kansas City.—Arkansas Gazette.

HIGH SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY

The Sacramento Union recently published an editorial concerning the relations of the High Schools of California to the universities, in which it showed that considerably less than 10 per cent of the students who enter the High Schools ever enter the universities, and that less than one in three of High School graduates become university students. Commenting on these statistics, the Union asks if it is worth while to arrange the curriculum and standards of scholarship in the High Schools solely with the view of fitting their graduates to take a university course.

The Mercury has on more than one occasion taken this view of the subject, and it is glad to see other journals getting into line. The theory upon which the educational system of California is based is that each grade of our public schools should be arranged with the view of making it merely an introduction to the next grade. The primary course is designed to fit the pupil for the grammar grade; the latter prepares him for the High School, and the university is the "capstone" of the system.

The Mercury holds that this educational scheme is founded in a misconception of its proper purpose. The true American idea is to give to every child such a common school education as will fit him for the ordinary duties of life and citizenship. The vast majority of boys and girls never go beyond the grammar grade. In fact, many never enter the grammar school, while many others drop out during that course. In the necessity of the case they graduate from the common schools, and enter the store and the workshop. It follows that the primary and grammar school courses should be arranged with such graduation in view; not a graduation to the High School. If there be any conflict between the two courses it should be decided in favor of the greatest good to the greatest number.

From the High School to the university the same reasoning holds good with even more force. That there is a conflict there, is evident from general knowledge and report. It was specifically illustrated during the session of the State Teachers' Convention in this city. On that occasion a university professor frankly charged the High Schools with doing poor and unsatisfactory work, because in certain scientific courses they did not train their students in conformity with the exact requirements of subsequent special university work.

The Mercury pointed out at the time, and it has never found reason to change its opinion, that it was not the proper function of the High School to train its students in such narrow and exact scientific lines as would heat fit them to take up severe university special lines that would make them chemists, or other scientists. There could be properly assumed only in case the whole body, or the greater number of High School students, intended to take a university course to fit themselves for scientific pursuits.

But that is not the case. As the statistics show, an overwhelming majority of High School students do not go to the University and have no intention of going there. For them the High School scientific courses are merely cultural; to give them the broader view of things which fits them to be more intelligent citizens. The High School should be as sufficient unto itself as possible, and the primary and grammar schools should be as sufficient unto themselves as possible. The common schools are for the many; the university for the few. That is the practical fact, whatever may be said about throwing open the doors of the higher education to all. However wide they are thrown open, the many cannot and will not enter therein. That fact should be recognized and our educational system planned in accordance with the fact.—San Jose Mercury.

IN SOCIETY

MISS WINIFRED S. HUSTED.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Husted of Moss avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Winifred Salsbury Husted to Walter Allen Crossman of San Jose.

Miss Husted is a charming girl, with many accomplishments, and is very popular here and across the bay. She has been a student at Mills College and has sung frequently at musicals about the bay. Miss Husted has a voice of remarkable range and sweetness.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Stanford University, a popular member of the Theta Delta Chi and is now a promising young business man of San Jose.

No definite date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place in July and will be one of the pretty events of the summer.

THOSE SEEKING MATRIMONY IN LONDON

Every spring the British mothers fancy heavily turns to thoughts of the season. She feels compelled, from a mixture of motives which are not all as self-sacrificing as she would like to represent them, to leave her comfortable country house and spend the best weeks of the year in London.

Her theory is that she is thereby giving her daughters "chances" which in plain English means husbands. When year after year she brings them back still unappropriated possibly even unsought it does not seem to occur to her to ask herself whether she is really taking them the royal road to the altar.

Speaking solely for the society which is usually written with a big "S," nine-tenths of its marriages are not brought about in London. Marriageable men do not nowadays seek their wives in the heated atmosphere of a ballroom. The few engagements that are announced during the season are not the results of meetings in London but of the house parties at Whitsun-tide, at Ascot or Goodwood.

Some affairs may actually come to their conclusion in London but in nine cases out of ten their beginning was in a country house.

The girl whose debut in society is at a London ball at the beginning of the season stands a poor chance of making many friends or getting many partners—unless, of course, she is a beauty or an heiress. The girl who came out six months earlier and has already had a round of visits in country houses for the hunt balls, has the advantage over her. There is not time in London to make new acquaintances, everybody is so much too busy with the ones they have already.

The longest period any young woman, who does not care to be gossiped about can be with a man, when half her acquaintance is looking on, is the merrier half hour or so of a dance, or the exiguous hour of dinner.

In the country it is different. There are so many pursuits nowadays in which a girl may spend a whole day with a man and no one be scandalized. There may also be some influence in scenery which may lead the thoughts of young men and maidens towards love and matrimony.

But all this only applies to a comparatively small circle of the people who seek matrimony in London—to society, in short, with the capital "S."

Mrs. Ernest E. Baker and her sister, Miss Dacombe have been spending some days at Santa Cruz.

A party of young girls, including Miss Alice Hoyt, Miss Fay Chapman, Miss Florence Burrall, Miss Vita Vincent, Miss Katherine Barnes, chaperoned by Miss Elva Hoyt are spending the summer months within a few miles of Santa Cruz where they will remain until the end of July.

Among the Oakland guests at McCraes near Cloverdale, are Mr. and Mrs. Max Taft and baby, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Layman and four charming daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Uhl, Mr. and Mrs. George Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bahls, Mrs. W. T. Veitch and Lloyd Veitch.

FRILLY FINANCE IN THE HOME.

THE MARRIED WOMAN IN CIVIL CODES OF FUTURE.

By Prof. Luis De Solo y Farres.

In most of the civil codes of Europe and America, in those of France, Italy, Spain, Guatemala, Mexico, the Argentine Republic, Uruguay, Chile and, above all, in the civil code of Germany, the most modern of all, it being promulgated in January, 1900, it is established that the husband is the director of the "manager" of conjugal life.

It is he who determines the nationality and even the name of the wife, and he who decides the place where the conjugal home must be established.

According to Article 1354 of the German code, the husband has the power of deciding all marital questions and controversies, and he also enjoys the privilege of selecting the site of the conjugal home. The wife is compelled to follow him wherever he goes, the only faculty allowed her being that of refusing to accompany him when his determination of changing the place of residence should not be justified according to law.

The fact that the German code, the most modern and in many respects one of the most admirable ones ever produced, far from repudiating the aforesaid clauses, which are included in nearly every civil code—ancient and contemporaneous—has adopted them, shows conclusively that the legal ascendancy of the husband over the wife is conducive to the happiness of conjugal life.

The tendencies of civil legislation in regard to matrimony are, as the illustrious Cambal said, "to consider matrimony, purely and simply, a social contract."

In this society, as well as in ar-

other, political, religious or mercantile, it is always necessary to have some one manage and administer the affairs of the company. This lot falls to the husband in the "society of matrimony."

This does not mean, however, that because the husband is and has heretofore been the director of matrimony, he should continue forever to enjoy the privilege. The day may come when women shall be as apt to assume the direction of affairs as men are nowadays. It is all a matter of proper education and training. Nature has not created man to command and woman to obey. To believe this is absurd. In my opinion, both sexes have been equally gifted, and if man has now the preponderancy, it is not because he was made to have it, but because he has assumed it, availing himself of his better trained intellect. Let us not forget, however, that while education, intellect and training contribute a great deal toward the attainment of happiness in married life, that is not all.

There is one clause which no civil code contains and which is indispensable to the welfare of the home—love. Where there is no love there can be no happiness in matrimony.

A man must always bear in mind that by the laws of the nation he is a director but not a dictator. He is the guide, but not the tyrant of his home.

He must make his wife follow his good advice, but he must try to avoid forcing her to obey his commands.

And he can only attain this by winning her affection, by possessing her love.

POPE DENIES PETITION OF PRINCESS.

ROME, June 19.—Pope Pius X has put an end to the hope of the Princess Rospiigliosi, formerly Marie Jennings Reid-Parkhurst of Bangor and Washington of securing religious sanction for her marriage to the noted Roman noble, the legitimization of her daughter and the unfettered recognition in Roman society as the wife of Prince Joseph Rospiigliosi by affirming the legality of her former marriage to Colonel Frederick H. Parkhurst of Bangor, Maine, from whom she was divorced prior to contracting the Italian alliance.

Having first refused under the canonical law to recognize this divorce, the Congregation of the Propaganda took up the points urged in behalf of the Princess that Parkhurst had never been christened and that his marriage, being without dispensation, was therefore null and void and decided that the point was not well taken, inasmuch as Archbishop Chapelle, of New Orleans, declared that he had issued the required dispensation. Cardinal Martinelli argued the case before the Propaganda against the Princess, and a majority of the Cardinals adopted his view. Pope Pius X then took up the case and studied it carefully. In his decision he holds that the former marriage stands and forbids a further reopening of the case.

The decision has created a profound sensation in Rome, where for several years the case has divided society into two hostile camps, the strict churchmen and the nobles following in their train, taking sides against the Princess and the other princes of the church and their adherents in the ranks of the nobility vigorously championing the cause of the American woman who is fighting not only for millions and a name that brought her all the fame and glory of the best period of Italian history, but for the rights of a wife and a mother and the legitimizing of her baby daughter, issue of the union upon which the ban of the holy church had been placed.

What the future holds for the Princess now, time alone can tell. The civil marriage by which she and Prince Rospiigliosi were united is binding as regards the state, but she and her husband are devout church members and the doors of some of the best houses in Rome were closed against her.

The effort of the Prince and Princess to have their civil marriage, which was celebrated in Italy on August 27, 1901, sanctioned by the Roman Catholic church through an annulment of the Princess' first marriage has become a cause celebre in Rome.

The Princess is the daughter of the late S. C. Reid and was born at New Orleans, though most of her early life was passed at Washington. She is the granddaughter of Samuel Chester Reid, who commanded the American privateer General Armstrong, in the famous engagement with a British fleet at Fayal in the War of 1812. Further back the Princess traces her ancestry to Lord Reid of Glasgow, and on her mother's side she is descended from the old Rowan family of Kentucky.

The family of which her husband, Prince Rospiigliosi is the head, has furnished a successor to the throne of Peter in Pope Clement IX and all the male members are hereditary princes of the Holy Roman Empire.

It is the high standing of the Princess, her close association with the church and the standing of the Princess herself, together with her beauty and charm that have attracted so much attention to the case.

At the height of her career as a beauty and a wit at Washington, Miss Reid met and married Frederick H. Parkhurst of Bangor, who later became a colonel on the staff of the governor of that state.

They lived happily for a time. Bangor and two children blessed the union, but eventually they became estranged. In 1898 Colonel Parkhurst secured a divorce and was awarded the custody of the children.

Following this, Mrs. Parkhurst went abroad and, in 1901, met Prince Rospiigliosi at a fox hunt. Though fifty-one years old, the nobleman confessed that he fell in love at first sight. The two met frequently at Rome, and when Mrs. Parkhurst returned to America, the Prince followed her and passed part of the summer at Bar Harbor.

A few months later, despite the objections of the Rospiigliosi family, led by his brother, Prince Clementine, commander of the Papal Guard, the Prince married Mrs. Parkhurst by civil ceremony.

At first, he renounced his birthright and estates to appease the church, but later reclaimed them as the suggestion of his wife and then began the contest to secure the recognition of the church, which is now ended in utter defeat.

bride's father, August Nomens, 2241 Pacific avenue, in Alameda. The ceremony was performed in the bay window of the drawing room, the couple standing under a wedding bell of white carnations. The Rev. Christopher Reuss, pastor of the Unitarian church officiated.

The bride was attired in a dress of point esprit, over white silk, and wore a long veil entwined with orange blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Katherine Nomens, a sister of the bride, was dressed in cream crepe and the two bridesmaids, Misses Lottie and Minnie Nomens, also sisters of the bride, were attired respectively in cream and blue crepe. The best man was W. R. Hindle of San Francisco, an intimate friend of the groom.

After a reception and wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Cord left for an extended honeymoon in Southern California and on their return will live in San Francisco.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A social dance will be given by the Brooklyn Parlor on Wednesday evening, June 21, at I. O. O. F. Hall, East Oakland, corner of Twelfth street and Eleventh avenue. A grand time is expected, and all who go will thoroughly enjoy themselves. Coffee and cake will be served during the evening. Loyal Temple will give a whist tournament Monday evening, June 18, at Foresters' Hall on Thirteenth and Clay streets. Valuable prizes have been secured by the following committee: Mrs. Journal, Mrs. Ellaser and Mrs. Schultz.

The entertainment for the benefit of Oakland Lodge No. 162 I. O. O. F. will be given tonight at Pythian Hall. There will be a program of vocal and instrumental music and refreshments will be served.

Fashion has decreed that the wife of the eldest brother shall be allowed to use the family name without any prefix, while the wives of those who have entered the world later must add their husband's Christian names.

to the family name. or, instance, Mrs. Nicholas Fish has on her card only Mrs. Fish, while on the card of the younger brother is Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish. This, of course, could only be the case where the mother of the men had died or married again.

Miss Letitia Tyler Semple, daughter of President Tyler and mistress of the white house during his incumbency, celebrated her 54th birthday a week or so ago at her home in Richmond, Va.

"Good citizens," said the reformer, "should band together and get control of the primaries." "But what method would you advise?" asked his friend. "Sit still or plain assault and battery."

JUNE IS MONTH FOR WEDDINGS

SOCIETY ANTICIPATING FOUR WEDDINGS DURING THE WEEK.

Among the important weddings of the week will be the marriage to-morrow evening of Miss Dale Cartley, and Rives Baker at Auburn followed by an elaborate garden reception to the 100 guests including many friends from Oakland.

Wednesday is the day fixed for three weddings and the group of brides on that day will include Miss Cornelia Dean Gordon, Miss Charlotte Steiner and Miss Leontine Blakeman. This trio of brides are all San Francisco girls and invited belles in society so that the weddings will be of widespread interest.

The nuptial service of Miss Gordon and Isaac Oliver Upham will be performed at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at 5 o'clock. The bride will be attended by Miss Dennis Seales as matron of honor and the best man will be the brother of the groom, Benjamin F. Upham. The only attendants the ushers will include Douglas MacBryde, Charles S. Tupper, Temple Smith, W. H. Smith Jr.

After the ceremony there will be an informal reception at the home of the bride's brother Philip K. Gordon on Washington street.

Miss Blackman and Captain Robert Franklin McMillan, U. S. A., will plight their troth at 4 o'clock in Trinity Church. The brides attendants will be her closest friends all young matrons.

Dr. Frederick Clappett of Trinity Church will read the service after which an informal reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Blakeman on Gough street.

AT PORTLAND

Mrs. Mills of Mills College will be hostess at a large reception at the Portland Hotel June 29. The college alumnae and the Mills students are to hold a reunion in Portland during the Fair and a large number of invitation have been sent out to members. The alumnae has also secured a room in the Y. W. C. A. building, where registration may be made and appointments with friends be made.

The educational building contains much interesting matter, among which is a display from Mills College under the charge of Professor Josiah Keep.

HAS ARRIVED.

OAKLAND WINS.
LOS ANGELES, June 19.—Oakland took the final game of the series from Los Angeles yesterday by the score of 8 to 3. Although both Gray and Iberg were batted for ten hits each, stupid base running, failure to hit the ball when hits were needed and needless playing in general on the part of the home team accounted for the difference in the score.

GRAY HARD HIT.
The errors made by the locals were also costly. The three men who batted in the first inning for Oakland reached first base, and three runs were scored on three hits. The visitors continued to hit Gray almost at will throughout the game.

BRAY WAS UNABLE TO IMPROVE YESTERDAY because of an injured foot, and Graham and Eager, officiating, decided to cause considerable dissatisfaction on both sides at times. Score: 8 to 3.

GOOD CARD IS ARRANGED FOR WEST OAKLAND CLUB BOUTS.

Four-Round Goes For Tomorrow Night.
Arrangements have been made for the handling of a large crowd at the West Oakland Club's fights tomorrow evening.

A good program of four-round bouts has been prepared and a fine evening's sport is assured.

The West Oakland Club is the only organization on this side of the bay holding amateur fights, and should therefore be given the encouragement of the fans.

William Duchran is president of the West Oakland Club, and it is largely due to his efforts that the monthly show given under the auspices of the organization is a success.

All bouts tomorrow night will be refereed by Dan Coakley. The master of ceremonies will be George Simpson. The bouts will be judged by two experts to be selected at the ring-side tomorrow night.

THE PROGRAM.
Jack Riley meets Kid Josephs, in the opening bout at 115 pounds. Both are clever as well as fast men, and their bout will no doubt be a hot one.

Following this bout comes Kid Lavigne and Ed Menzer at 115 pounds. Both are clever boys and their bout will assuredly be an excellent one. Both have had several encounters and have always put up a rattling fight.

GRUDGE FIGHT.
The next brings out Bat McFadden and Jack Ross, who wish to settle a long-standing argument as to who is the better man, as they tried once to settle it, but were stopped just as it was getting interesting, and will now try and settle it to their satisfaction.

The next in order brings out Loren Brown and Kid Franks at 125 pounds. Both boys are experienced, fast and clever and their bout will no doubt be a hot one.

BIKE JOHNSON.
The next brings out Bike Johnson and Young Dutch Thurston at 130 pounds. Both are fast men and can be depended upon for a fast go.

The last go brings out Jack Dempsey and Young Wilkins at 125 pounds. Both come with a good reputation as scrappers and their bout will undoubtedly be full of action from start to finish.

The program will start at 8:30 sharp and will be run off in rapid succession.

WHEN "JAKY" DANCED FOR MONEY.
"Jaky" Baumgarten cannot be subdued. "Jaky" is a thoroughbred sport, will bet on any proposition, was known once to make a Broadway saloon man "take water" by wanting to bet him Sunday was not the Sabbath.

"Jaky" is a good loser. He may be defeated in foot races, pie eating contests and plunging on the ponies, but when it comes to dancing the light fantastic he is there with both feet.

Last Friday evening "Fatty" Carlish, the well-known dealer in vegetables and other things, and Jaky adjourned to Adams Hall, after a heated controversy as to which one was most acceptable to the female sex in walking.

About 100 persons were present at the contest and $10 was the amount competed for.

WILLIAM DUCHRAN, the Popular President of the West Oakland Club.

NEW CLASS OF CHAMPIONS WANTED OF PORTLAND BUNCH
The Hawthorne Athletic Club will in the near future give a series of bouts for the purpose of selecting a new set of amateur champions.

Most of the lads who won big purses in short four round goes in the past have been declared professionals by the P. A. A. and their legitimate successors have to be chosen.

Many of the old timers have already thrown off the mask in which they padded and have signed for twenty round bouts. Peterson is to do battle with Clancy at Colma tonight and Tenny is to face Frankie Neil at the same place a week later.

FRIDAY NIGHTS' CARD.
The card to be decided at Woodwards Pavilion a week from Friday night was arranged by the officials of the Hawthorne Club for the purpose of sizing up the talent now in the field.

A number of new names are among the judges, but what the brawlers lack in experience they make up in quality.

The most strenuous event on the card will be the one between J. J. McClair of the Olympic club and W. Curried of the San Mateo rasher. The latter likes the fighting game and is using his own language would sooner slug than eat. Last month he demonstrated that he is a mummy one for selling a fast pace. He made the Olympic club champion quit in the third round. From that point St. Clair protected himself but did little fighting. Though mowed down by a novice, St. Clair still maintained that he can beat the victor and he sought the return match in hopes of reversing the decision. The winner will represent California in the middle weight class contests at the fair at Portland.

ENGLISH CHAMPION.
Another star bout will be that between McLaughlin, the English champion, and Walter Stanton, the Point Richmond premier. They will do business at 145 pounds and the winner will be hailed as the welter weight champion. Ed Duffy and J. Murphy are in the fight for their mill at 115 pounds. Duffy is the cleverer of the two, but Murphy is a fighter of the batling Nelson school. He carries the pace and is a hard customer to put away. He lost last month to Duffy but expects this month to win.

Jack Rodney is undoubtedly cut out for great deeds in the ring. He is an intrepid fighter of the aggressive class. That he has great speed is shown by the fact that few of his opponents have faced him more than a round or two. In Bob Ritchie he will meet the classiest fighter he has yet opposed. That the mill will be a hammer is assured.

MAURER CUP CAPTURED BY TREGO.
The Maurer cup, the perpetual challenge trophy given by John Maurer to the Oakland Wheelmen, to be contested every three months was won yesterday by D. Trego, who covered the two-mile course over the Hayward triangle in the fair time of 2 minutes and 56 seconds. W. Lucco finished second and C. Nelson third.

The Bay City Wheelmen won from the California Cycling Club by more than a lap in a fifty-mile relay race held yesterday afternoon at the West Oakland speed track, the race being ridden by the winning team in 2 hours, 35 minutes and 47 seconds. At no time was the Bay City team in danger of defeat.

BASEBALL ON ST. MARY'S FIELD

BY JOHN F. BRADY
The Hanley-Rye team of San Francisco on Saturday crossed bats with the Young Phoenix of St. Mary's.

The collegians at the start anticipated a very easy contest, as was apparent. The game went on for three innings and the score was only 1 to 0 in their favor, when they became slightly alarmed and "gingered up" by making one by 5 to 0.

NEW SLAB ARTIST.
The game contained many strong features, but none so remarkable as the pitching. The Young Phoenix were at one time classed as weak hitters, but long ago they rid themselves of the implication. They have been facing the best twirlers the amateur talent affords and have always proven strong except when opposed by southpaws.

On Saturday, however, a strange observer might have imagined that they were up against McGillicuddy or the old-time "Jag" Hughes. They were absolutely helpless before the Hanley-Rye pitcher, a young boy who has within a fortnight made his debut as a star artist. Nine-teen of the Young Phoenix struck out, and adding in one very serious mistake by the umpire against them, they made but four hits.

The collegians were dumfounded and even yet are wondering if their batting eyes were dimmed temporarily by the presence of a magician.

ANOTHER NEW 'UN.
Of course, the youngster, whose name is Miller, has lots to learn. He is wild, excitable and lacks control, but experience will rectify these defects, and he will yet be heard from. Nor was he alone in the line.

The collegians introduced a new twirler, a fifteen-year-old youngster, with quite a unique name: the score card reads "Surre". We learned that this youngster's name was not a misprint, but a rather suggestive Victor, and victor he was to be.

If his first appearance is a criterion of his worth, the Young Phoenix will shortly canonize him. And the score spherically task will be twice holy. However, but two single were made off Victor St. Sure and he walked in the eighth inning was more consistent than Miller's.

MESMER-SMITH.
The Young Phoenix followed up their good work by easily beating the Hanley-Rye team by 10 to 3. A large crowd was on hand and for over half the game those who paid got their money's worth, while the "side-liners" entitled themselves to an explanation of the duties of the umpire, who was generally by the seventh precept of the orthodox decalogue.

After the game, the Young Phoenix all were in the running and they then eased up in the running and they then eased up in the running.

GOSSIP FROM EASTERN TRACKS

BY "NESTOR"
Jockey Henry Spencer has again taken up riding and when he can make weight in the colors of Captain Sam Brown in his second string racing at the minor circuits. He has no regular contract with the stable, but will ride when the weights suit.

Since the sale of the English stallion Cylene for $15,000 and the victory of his son, Cloclo, in the English Derby, there is a big filly running at the side of the imported steeple chaser at the Castleton stud which comes in for a lot of attention from visitors and turfmen alike. The filly is by Cylene, and Lady Minting is her dam.

It is entirely probable that the success of Oxford will lead Mr. Lane to go on the turf with at least a half-dozen horses next year. He is one of the wealthier of the younger set and would be a decided acquisition. He has no foolish notions that Oxford may be picked up any day by a person possessing money, but he has had enough of success to make him see the pleasant side of the sport and that that is a lot in determining a man upon a position.

In four palatial box stalls, specially built on the hurricane deck of the British steamer Brierly, and next to the private cabin of the boat's captain, are royally bred American trotters left for Brooklyn on a journey of over 16,000 miles by water under favorable sailing conditions. The horses will reach their new home in sixty-five days.

Their destination is the Allendale Stock Farm, at Mentone, a suburb of Melbourne, Australia. The owner of the farm, whose name is not given, has been in this country two years ago, left at the time Frederick Watson, then the New York Quarter Horse Association's president, was superintendent of Jacobus Hudson River Stock farm, at Poughkeepsie, for six of the most bred trotting mares that have been produced in the world. These mares have been mated to the best stallions that have been bred in the world, and the result has been a fine lot of mares, each of which has been mated to a stallion of the highest quality.

Each mare will occupy a stall 10x12, padded on all sides with soft and comfortable material. The stalls are arranged to be used in case of emergency. Every stall is furnished with portable mangers, hay racks, brand new harnesses, and a good supply of veterinary medicines. In case of extreme cold weather steam will be run through specially padded pipes. In order to avoid the danger of holding, gangways were built to the horse boxes, and the stalls are at a cost of several hundred dollars. No expense was spared in the sanitary arrangements, and in this matter they are perfect.

THE TRAVELERS.
In compliance with the orders of the buyers, the horses are to be shipped by rail, and each represents a different breeding, and all have breeding certificates from the American Trotting Register Association.

The youngest in the lot is Countess Todd, a three-year-old filly, 15½ hands, is the only one of the lot who has been mated to a stallion of the highest quality. She was bred and is supposed to be safely in foal to Lord Hamlin, a son of Dare Devil, 2:09, and is expected to produce a fine mare.

The four-year-old is Blondie Grattan, a chestnut mare, 15½ hands, by Grattan, 2:13, and is expected to produce a fine mare. The four-year-old is Blondie Grattan, a chestnut mare, 15½ hands, by Grattan, 2:13, and is expected to produce a fine mare.

CRICKET GAME RESULTS IN DRAW.

The Alameda and the San Francisco county cricket teams played a drawn match yesterday on the ground at Webster street, Alameda. The Alameda eleven, lacking its captain, Harold Ward, went to the bat first and made the good total of 125 runs, the principal players being Wheeler (42), C. Croil (30) and B. Bird (25). For San Francisco county the most successful bowler was Peterson, who took six wickets for 53 runs. Richardson captured two wickets for 44 runs.

The Alameda team would have stood a good chance of disposing of their opponents for a smaller total than 125 runs had their fielders not dropped three catches. Five wickets were down at 6 o'clock for 125 runs, and the match ended in a draw.

RACES ON THE SAN LORENZO TRACK.
There will be some great racing contests at the San Lorenzo Trotting Park, July 4, that will attract the horsemen throughout the county. The events are as follows:

Pacing and trotting race, two best in three half-mile heats, for purse of $25, 60 per cent to winner, 25 per cent to second, 15 per cent to third.

One-half mile race for runners, two best in three heats, $25 to winner, $15 to second, $10 to third.

Five-eighths mile dash, purse $30; $25 to first, $15 to second; weight for age in running races.

RECORD CLIMB MADE BY ATHLETES

Gilbert Thomas, 1966 Twenty-fourth avenue, and Roy Lovett, also of East Oakland, both members of the Century Athletic Club, walked from East Oakland to the top of Mount Diablo and back to East Oakland yesterday in 20 hours and 33 minutes. The distance is estimated at 60 miles and the men climbed to an altitude of 4,886 feet.

The feat was undertaken by the young men on a wager made with other members of the club that they could cover the distance in less than 48 hours. Two judges accompanied Thomas and Lovett from East Oakland to the foot of the mountain in a rig. One of the judges climbed with them to the top of the mountain. The climb to the top of the mountain was made in 7 hours and 25 minutes.

The men of the athletic club state that this is the best record in which this trip has ever been made from this city.

PLEA FOR RELIEF FROM "HOPPERS"

University Men Called Upon By Farmers to Help Them Fight the Pest.

BERKELEY, June 19.—Professor W. C. Woodworth, associate professor of entomology at the University of California, says that this year will experience the greatest invasion of grasshoppers that California has ever seen. The statement made. Letters have been received from all parts of the State and so urgent has been the call for help that Professor Woodworth will leave Berkeley shortly to visit the fields where the pest is operating and to help in the fight against its depredations.

STARS AT SUNDAY COLLEGE SERVICE

Courses at the Children Plan to Entertain at San Leandro.

BERKELEY, June 19.—Scores of those who plan to get the benefits of the University's annual summer school have begun to arrive in Berkeley, the days between this and June 26 being none too many for the completion of preparations for the institution's annual opening. Men from the East who are notable for their achievements in fields of scholarship, are to join with University of California professors in giving instruction to advanced pupils during the next six weeks.

Teachers who are at leisure during the summer months are expected to form the greater part of the instructors for knowledge at the sessions of the summer school, and the courses have been arranged with that fact in mind.

Professor E. C. Moore, of the University of California, will have two courses: "The History of Education" and "Sources in the History of Education." In the first Professor Moore will make a study of Greek educational practice and theory; of education among the Romans; of the old learning and the new faith, and of the history of education in the church before the renaissance.

Professor Farrington of California will discuss elementary education and practice teaching.

Professor William G. Eale of the University of Chicago is to have a teachers' training course. Professor Stephens of California will deal with the teaching of history in secondary schools.

Ten presidents of State normal schools will discuss educational problems.

From Yale will come Professor Thomas Fay Seymour, who will lecture on Greek poetry.

Professor Albert Augustus Stanley will discuss and teach "Music in its Relation to Life."

Domestic science courses, for housewives, will be a strong department of the summer school. The agricultural and mining courses are strong, including the foremost instructors of the West.

A course on nature study, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Botsford Comstock, of Cornell, will be a novelty.

STRIKE IS ENDED. NEW YORK, June 19.—A strike declared some weeks ago by the Optical Workers' Association, composed of men employed in the eye-glass factories of this city, has come to an end. Of the 200 men who were idle all except twenty, or twenty-five will be back at the benches today, the union having declared the strike off.

MALARIA A Poison Breathed into the System. The air arising from low, marshy places, damp cellars, stagnant ponds and pools and from decaying vegetable matter, as well as the gases from sewers, is loaded with germs of malarial poison. The water we drink, that has not been properly filtered and purified, is also full of these germs and microbes, and as we daily breathe and drink millions of these into the system, to be absorbed by the blood, the entire body begins to feel the effects of the poison. The most common form of Malaria is "chills and fever," but when the blood is thoroughly saturated with the poison it becomes so weak and polluted that abscesses, carbuncles, boils, sores, ulcers and other skin diseases result. Malaria also affects the liver, kidneys, bowels and stomach, producing a chronic state of biliousness that often results in jaundice or some malignant fever. In cases of Malaria the blood must be purified before the body can regain its natural health. S. S. S. contains purifying and tonic properties possessed by no other blood medicine, and is the ideal remedy for the treatment of Malaria. It destroys the germs of the disease and builds up the weakened, polluted circulation. It enters into the blood and forces out every particle of poison and waste matter and adds strength and activity to it. S. S. S. improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the entire system by its alterative and purifying action, and Malaria, with all its bad effects, is permanently driven from the system. Book on the blood and any medical advice, without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

VARSITY LAD MAKES HIT IN THE NORTH.

Walter De Leon Pleases Audiences As Member of the Berkeley Quartet.

BERKELEY, June 19.—Reports from the north tell the story to the colony of University lads here during the summer months that Walter De Leon is making a palpable hit, on tour with the Berkeley quartet in the wilds of Mendocino county.

FIRE AT FRUITVALE

Blaze Breaks Out in Hay-Field Saturday.

FRUITVALE, June 19.—Fire broke out Saturday afternoon in a hay field belonging to J. D. Taylor, of this place. The conflagration was caused by sparks, presumably from one of the engines passing along near it, as the field is located beside the track.

The Fruitvale Fire Department turned out in answer to the alarm and soon had the fire under control. Several stacks of hay were damaged by the fire and water, but the damage was not great, owing to the promptness of the department in answering the summons.

The fire was first noticed at one o'clock. Within twenty minutes it was extinguished by the hose company.

FRUITVALE, June 19.—W. O. W. will give another whist party at Masonic Hall on Thursday evening, June 29th.

A. C. Cunningham of San Francisco has purchased the handsome residence of J. V. Matteson on Perilla avenue. The former owner expects to build again on the heights opposite Twenty-seventh avenue.

Henry Harmon, who had an encounter with a pet bear ten days ago, is improving. The bear was shot and is ever with the exception of a few scars.

D. Jerome and C. J. McChen have moved into adjacent houses on Putnam street. The building was just finished by C. A. Jeffers, contractor.

GRANTED DIPLOMAS Exercises at the Elmhurst Public School.

ELMHURST, June 19.—Preparations have been commenced for the graduating exercises at the public school here. The entertainment is to take place at the school building on Thursday evening, June 29th. An interesting program is to be rendered. Probably T. O. Crawford, the County Superintendent of Schools, will be present and favor with an address. F. S. Rossiter, the new principal of the Union High School is to talk, and Professor J. Armstrong will deliver an oration.

The pupils of the school are to take a promenade part in the exercises. Their teachers are training them to recite and sing. The members of the graduating class are to deliver speeches and write papers for reading at the exercises.

The graduates who are to receive their diplomas at the entertainment are as follows: Miss A. M. Elmer, Miss Josephine Harris, Miss E. L. Harris, Miss May N. Bly, Miss Belle Harlan and Mr. J. D. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. George Filbert have located on Fifth avenue and intend to spend the summer here.

Mr. J. D. Young of Olive street is entertaining his father, L. L. Goddard of Oregon, for a few days.

Miss Rose Greenberg is the guest of friends at Mills for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson and Mrs. H. B. Arlett spent yesterday on a picnic to Alum Rock near San Jose.

Daniel Greene of San Francisco is visiting relatives on Jones avenue.

Miss Rose Greenberg is the guest of friends at Mills for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson and Mrs. H. B. Arlett spent yesterday on a picnic to Alum Rock near San Jose.

DEATH OF PIONEERS

Two Aged Men Pass Away at Haywards.

HAYWARDS, June 19.—Two old residents of Eden Township passed away last Friday. They were Thomas C. Armstrong of Haywards and Frederick Rippe of San Lorenzo, aged respectively 76 and 70 years.

Mr. Armstrong has been in this place for nearly fifty years, forty of which he spent as the town expressman. He was known as the oldest inhabitant of Eden Township and his death was a great loss to the community.

The funeral of the pioneer took place yesterday at the residence of the deceased. He was buried in the Eden cemetery.

Mr. Armstrong was a native of Germany. With his family he has lived in this place for nearly fifty years.

Frederick Rippe was a native of Germany. With his family he has lived in this place for nearly fifty years.

His death was a great loss to the community. He was buried in the Eden cemetery.

Special services were held at the Congregational Church yesterday afternoon by the German Lutheran Ladies' Society in honor of the fifth anniversary of the founding of the organization. A number of musical numbers were on the program.

The grave of Mrs. Hermine Rupprecht was decorated with a handsome stone by the members of the Rebekah lodge yesterday afternoon. Appropriate ceremonies accompanied the placing of the stone.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Prosser of C Street expect that their son and his family will arrive from the Santa Cruz mountains today.

An agreement has been reached by the butchers of Haywards that after July 1st they will close their shops all day on Sundays.

Miss Hazel Merzbach will leave town today after tomorrow to attend the Portland Fair.

BERKELEY, June 19.—Professor A. L. Fitz has gathered several fine samples of genuine macaroni wheat from the experimental farm in Sutter county.

The wheat is bearded and the heads are large and long. The threshing is full of big kernels and the sample gives every indication of curing up well.

There is more gluten in this wheat than in any other, and it has long been the endeavor of the department to raise it successfully in the valley. In a few weeks the wheat will be ripe and more can be learned of its quality.

MANY INJURED. NEW YORK, June 19.—In a rear end collision between two trolley cars at Maspeth, L. I., eleven persons have been injured, some of them quite seriously. Some were thrown from their seats and others being trampled by the crowd in their efforts to get free of the wreck.

CERTAIN SUICIDE IS GUSTAVE WIESE.

Additional Evidence is Found By the Authorities—Notes From Alameda.

ALAMEDA, June 19.—Circumstantial evidence which gives no room for hope is at hand to show that the unfortunate who took his own life by first shooting himself with a revolver and then leaping into the bay waters from the ferry steamer Newark on last Wednesday night was none other than Gustave A. Wiese, former City Electrician of this city, where he had many friends.

It is affirmed by Police Sergeant Albert Kamp that Wiese made many threats of suicide while in the company of an electrician residing in Oakland, whose name is temporarily withheld by the police. This friend met the former City Electrician on Wednesday across the bay, and suggested a trip to Alameda. Wiese demurred, stating that he did not wish to visit this city and let him in the fact that he was out of a job. The two then went to Oakland. At a later hour in the evening they had a few glasses of beer in Theo. Gier's establishment, at which time the Alameda electrician was much depressed in spirits.

He needed no more money, he said, and refused proffer of a considerable amount, finally accepting 25 cents. He talked of making away with himself, and showed his friend that he had a revolver in his pocket with which he might commit the rash act. His friend tried to induce him to accompany him to Madera, Fresno county, where he had a contract. Wiese said he would go if he were to start at once, but as his friend was not to leave for a day or two the subject was not further considered. It was this friend who saw Wiese off on the train from Fourteenth street station to connect with the steamer Newark on the fatal trip, when, driven to distraction by his grief over the death of his wife and worried by loss of positions, he carried out what was evidently a premeditated plan to commit suicide.

The manager of the Masonic Home at Decoto, where the unfortunate man had placed his two boys, Alvin and Fred, states that when Alvin returned on Monday evening, after spending Sunday and Monday with his father, he brought with him the rings and jewelry of his deceased mother, stating that his father had requested that the manager place them in the safe. Wiese was evidently certain on Tuesday that before the week was out he would end his troubles in death. His sister-in-law had since visited the Orphan's Home, and expressed herself as satisfied that the victim of the tragic suicide was the former electrician.

George J. Foster of this city, who resides on Oak street, near Santa Clara avenue, has refused to be convinced that his friend Wiese is dead. He has in charge many of the valuable pieces of jewelry which Wiese had deposited with him, and has been in receipt of Wiese's mail, which the grief-stricken man looked at on Sunday last. He was sure Wiese would appear to confound those who thought him dead until yesterday, when he gave up hope. Wiese had made an appointment to come to see him yesterday afternoon. Appropriate ceremonies were held at the home of Wiese's mother, which the grief-stricken man looked at on Sunday last. CELEBRATION AT SUFFERING IN PLEASANTON

FESTIVITIES OF THE HOLY GHOST - SOME PERSONAL NOTES.

PLEASANTON, June 19.—The festivities of the Holy Ghost celebration, beginning on Saturday evening was the largest and most successful affair of its kind ever held here, fully 5,000 people from all over the State being present, and a most delightful time was had by all. The celebration began on Saturday evening by a procession up Main street headed by the Pleasanton Band, and twenty-four little girls, all in white, each carrying lighted candles, escorted the crowd, the members of Council No. 15 I. D. B. S. following, at the grounds. The crown was on display in the room built for that purpose, surrounded by beautiful decorations of choicest cut flowers, the room was lit up with dozens of candles. There were fireworks and music by the band until 10 o'clock, when all adjourned to Nevis Pavilion to enjoy the grand ball. The pavilion was festooned with white and blue bunting. In the center was a large crown suspended from the ceiling made of crepe paper, and flowers. Victor's Orchestra furnished the music. The grand march was started at ten-thirty, Mr. and Mrs. Eros Enos leading. Over two hundred couples wended their way through the pretty figures. At 12 o'clock a fine supper was served by the ladies of the lodge, and the tables were filled many times. Dancing was kept up until five o'clock Sunday morning. At 11 o'clock the march was again formed, and all marched to St. Augustine's Church, where Mass was said by Rev. Father McNaboe, and the crown was blessed. The afternoon was spent with music and social time. The usual auction of food and live stock took place, and was used for lodge. Tonight the festivities close with a social dance at Nevis Pavilion.

STEPPED ON RUSTY NAIL. Peter Madsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. D. Madsen while walking in the yard Saturday, stepped upon a rusty nail which cut an ugly gash in his foot. It will be some time before he can be around.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Olney are stopping with relatives in Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Horner, Mrs. S. B. Vandervoort and Mrs. H. W. Ebergon, all of Centerville are in town Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Enos Blders of San Francisco, visited relatives here over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Al Terry of San Francisco were guests at Rancho del Valle Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stocker of Oakland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDougall over Sunday. William Baumgarten and party of friends from San Francisco were in town Sunday. Mrs. George Kelly and children will leave next week for a visit to Portland. Mrs. W. H. Donahue spent the latter part of the week in the bay cities. Miss Kate, Little of Centerville is a guest at the Rose Hotel. George Davis, manager of Rancho del Valle is the proud owner of a fine new automobile, which he will use touring many places of interest during his vacation.

AMERICANS ARE TOLD TO LEAVE

CHEFOO, June 19.—American and European firms still in Fort Arthur have been notified by the Japanese authorities to depart and to remove their merchandise. Many of the firms are now arranging to charter steamers for that purpose. CHEFOO, June 19.—Shipments of contraband of war for the Japanese continue to be made, particularly from Chefoo to Liany.

INVESTORS NOT HAPPY

WILL TAKE THEIR COMPLAINT INTO THE SUPERIOR COURT.

There are mutterings, and complaining among the stockholders of a corporation known here as the Reliable Non-Refillable Bottle Company as to what has been done with the money they have paid for stock, what has become of the bottle which was to have prevented the refilling with spurious brands of bottles for tippees and condiments of superior reputation, and which was at the same time to have brought fame to the investors and a fortune to those who had risked their money in furthering the enterprise.

MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS. This clamor, say some of the investors, will result in the calling of a meeting and the employment of counsel for the purpose of causing the leaders of the enterprise to make an accounting and otherwise assure the supporters of the project that they are to get something for their money.

VALVES AND CROSSES. The desire of the stockholders in the concern crystallized into a statement today by one of their number, in substance as follows: "The Reliable Non-Refillable Bottle Company was incorporated a couple of years ago. It had a prospectus with an illuminated cover, which was printed by the Baker Printing Company, on Ninth street, between Broadway and Franklin. Baker has 2,000 shares of stock in the concern and experience for his work. The illuminated cover contained a representation of the neck of a bottle with sectional views of valves with the refilling of the receptacle was to be rendered impracticable and a Malters cross was put forth as the 'protector'.

OAKLAND INVESTORS. "The investors were announced as E. S. Irvin and Miss Frankie B. Jackson, both of this city. D. Jackson of Oakland was secretary and director, and E. S. Irvin, also of Oakland, was director and general manager. A. Z. Jackson, also of this city, was another director. Other officers resided in San Francisco and Rochester, N. Y. According to the prospectus, if only one-tenth of the alcoholic liquors produced in this country should be put up in the reliable non-refillable bottle, at a royalty of only one-tenth of 1 per cent, it would result in a profit of $500,000 annually for the stockholders.

SOME HOLDERS OF STOCK. "Secretary Jackson traded several thousand shares with H. Pedersen for lots in Ella View tract, a suburb of Oakland, and Pedersen, later, sold the stock some of it here for from 75 to 15 cents a share.

DEALS AND DEALS. "From time to time stories of 'deals' have been told to the stockholders. One of these was that Dr. Rinehart was going East to sell the patent to a Chicagoan for $50,000, and that he was to receive $15,000 for his services. Later it was stated that the Chicagoan was through and that the doctor in question had demanded $25,000 instead of $15,000 for his services.

DEPOSITS IN BANK. "Then it was alleged that the stock was in escrow in the Twenty-third avenue branch of the California Bank, and that $50,000 was on deposit there with which to take stock and patent. One of the stockholders asked D. Edwards, president of the California Bank, as to what were the facts of the case, and Mr. Collins nearly died laughing, declaring the story to be most absurd.

WEST OAKLAND BANK. "Then it was claimed that the stock and patent sale money were in the West Oakland Bank and not the California Bank. When Cashier Wines was asked over the phone what he knew about the reliable non-refillable bottle, he asked if that were the latest joke, and replied that he would put up the cigars at once. He said he did not know what it meant.

QUESTION OF MEETINGS. "There has never been held, so far as it is possible for us to ascertain, a meeting of the stockholders or of the directors. Indeed, we have had to look long, at times, to find them. Jackson works for the Contra Costa Laundry Company and letters have been left at his place of business and have been received by him, asking for information of the project, and no answer has been received to them.

LOOKING FOR A BOTTLE. "We have not been able even to get one of the bottles, D. C. Besseler, the treasurer and director, stating to all inquirers that Jackson had it, and Jackson would declare that it was at the office.

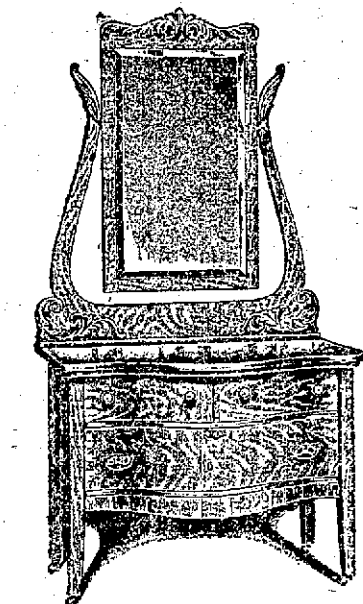

Girardo, the tamale man, speaking on the subject, said: "Oh, the non-refillable bottle is a fake. I have several thousand shares of stock in the thing. I gave property in Fresno and Los Angeles for it. The bottle is a fake. I have filled it myself at the hydrant. When did I see Jackson? I saw him yesterday. He had the same old story, 'trying to work a deal'."

An attempt was made to see Secretary Jackson today, but he could not be found.

ANOTHER CARPET SALE ALL THIS WEEK

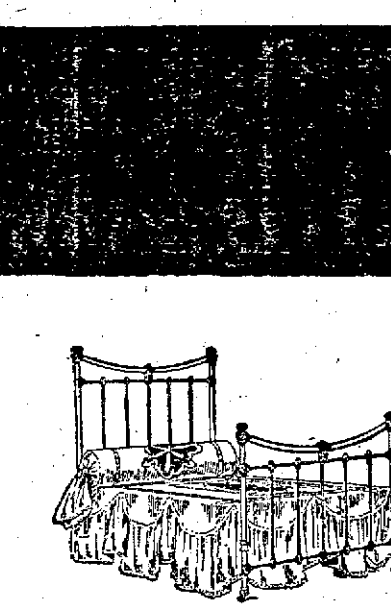

All sale prices quoted below good until next Saturday night. Prices include sewing, laying and lining and represent fresh, new, up-to-date patterns with or without borders to match. This is the second carpet sale we have had here in Oakland and if its success is to be judged by the first sale we advise calling early in the week as all sale carpets must be laid in rotation to the sales. The party who buys first gets their carpet laid first. There is nothing we could advertise of more importance than a sale of carpets.

A New Bed Spring

Here is something new. So constructed that it will never sag in the center, no matter how used. Always absolutely level and at the same time unusually soft and flexible and absolutely noiseless. The best spring we ever saw. All sizes for wood or iron beds. Ask to see them—each $4.50 each

A Beautiful Iron Bed

This is a particularly well made bed. Comes either full or three-quarter size in cream and gold, apple green and gold or oxidized copper. A very heavy massive bed in a simple, artistic design, 64 inches high. Cream or green. Price.....$12.00 Oxidized Copper. Price.....$13.50 Do you realize that you spent (or ought to) at least one-third of your life in bed? Now why don't you get good, wholesome, sanitary bed furniture? It may save a doctor's bill.

Why do you pay "the other fellow" rent for the use of his furniture when you can come here and by paying about the difference buy your own furniture. A furnished room costs from $15.00 to $25.00 a month; an unfurnished room costs from $5.00 to $15.00 a month. The difference ($10.00 a month) will buy more than enough furniture for your room and in a short time you'll not only be using your own furniture but saving $10.00 a month as well. Suppose you drop in and talk it over with us.

Free Automobile

We have purchased an automobile for our customers. Anyone desiring to go out looking for houses "to let," to be taken home after a shopping tour or to go from one store to any other part of the city, may have the use of our machine and chauffeur. It is at your disposal.

Lists of "To Let" Houses

We have a complete list of the houses "To Let" in Oakland and vicinity. If you are looking for a home come in and look over the list. We simply keep this list for accommodation and reference, but will be pleased to take any one to any of the houses they desire to help them get a home if we can.

VETERANS ENJOY CAMP

HAVE A PLEASANT BUT QUIET SUNDAY AT CAMP BUREBANK. SANTA ROSA, June 19.—The Grand Army of the Republic veterans at Camp Burebank spent a quiet day in religious exercises and the enjoyment of rest in the shade yesterday. At 11 o'clock in the morning they marched to the Presbyterian Church, headed by a drum corps and listened to a sermon by Rev. William Martin. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a memorial service was held in the pavilion, at which a roll call of the dead was had, by the various posts in camp. Rev. William Martin had charge of this service. The ministerial quartet, composed of Rev. J. A. Wallis, Rev. Monroe H. Alexander, Rev. William Martin and Rev. D. P. Wingate, furnished music. A long program of addresses and musical numbers was given. The veterans will break camp on Saturday next and return to their homes on the evening trains. The program for the coming week is as follows: Monday, National Guard day, under auspices of Company 1; Tuesday, Sebastopol day, program by the Sebastopol Post of that city; Wednesday, Blue Bird day, with Blue Birdettes as chief performers; Friday, Sonoma county day, with a varied program of exercises, and a business meeting, at which officers of the Veterans Association of Northern California will be chosen and the next place of meeting selected.

TELEPHONE MEN IN CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 19.—Delegates to the convention of the National Interstate Independent Telephone Association, which will open here tomorrow, are arriving. One of the speakers is expected to be a representative of the telephone business who will be an important topic. One of the leading questions to be discussed at the meeting is the possibility of installing independent systems of communication. It is declared, and the subject of uniform toll rates for interconnecting telephone plants will be another important topic. The association has divided the territory into districts, each of which will be officially represented by delegates, and the advantages of standardizing equipments and operation will be fully discussed with a view of satisfying the largest possible number of companies.

FUNERAL OF LATE SHELBY F. MARTIN

The funeral of Shelby Foote Martin was held from the Martin residence at 714 Fourteenth street at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Charles T. Walker, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiated during the last rites. The pallbearers were Superior Judge Harry A. Melvin, R. M. Fitzgerald, F. A. Stolp, G. R. Lukens, E. J. Cotton, Churchill Taylor, J. D. McLaren and W. E. Griffith. A large cortege followed the body to the Mountain View Cemetery, where it was placed in the family vault.

PROF. MONTGOMERY WILL EXHIBIT

Professor J. I. Montgomery, known as the man-bird of California, has arranged to give a public exhibition of his wonderful aeroplanes, Sunday, June 25, at 3 p. m. Montgomery's spectacular flight, at Santa Clara College a short time ago has astonished and interested scientific men the world over. It is the first time that such a trip was ever attempted and the aeronaut lived to try it again. The exhibition will be well worth witnessing. The aeroplanes, seated in his car, will be towed by a balloon to a height of 4,000 feet above the race track and then cut loose. He has such perfect control over his machine, that it behaves very much like a bird on the wing, coasting down through the air at a terrific rate, turning sharply upward at the end of the descent, describing great circles, and finally alighting gently on a chosen spot, without injury to rider or machine. No matter what the wind, the inventor

MUST NOT DUMP MUD IN CHANNEL

VALLEJO, June 19.—The Southern Pacific Company had its dredgers at work south of Vallejo early last week. The mud was being dumped into the main channel, when a protest was made by the Vallejo Chamber of Commerce, to Colonel Heuer and Admiral McCalla. Colonel Heuer on Thursday notified the Southern Pacific Company that the dumping of mud in the Mare Island channel must cease, as it was detrimental to that waterway. The Chamber of Commerce desires that the mud be taken as far south as Red Rock.

State and County Tax Sale

For the Year 1904.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

County of Alameda.

Public notice is hereby given that default having been made in the payment of taxes due to the State of California and to the County of Alameda for the year 1904, upon the property hereinafter described, and the Tax Collector of the County of Alameda, by virtue of the power and authority of law, did, upon Monday, November 28th, 1904, and upon April 24th, 1905, at 6 o'clock P. M., levy upon said property now, therefore, I, James B. Barber, Tax Collector of the County of Alameda, will on

MONDAY,

The 31 day of July, A. D. 1905.

At the hour of 11 o'clock A. M., commence to sell the same in the Tax Collector's office in the County Court House of the County of Alameda, in the City of Oakland, unless the taxes delinquent, together with the costs and percentages, are paid, and that I will continue such sale until the whole property set forth hereinafter shall be sold pursuant to law, and unless the taxes delinquent, as herein set forth, are paid, and the costs and penalties, are paid, the real property herein described, upon which such taxes are a lien, will be sold.

CONDITIONS

Real property will be sold to the State, subject to redemption within five years from the date of sale or at any time prior to the entry of sale of said land by the State in the manner provided by Section Three Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventeen, Political Code.

DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Public notice is hereby given that the figures appearing opposite following last and after each description of property in the DELINQUENT TAX LIST are the figures appearing opposite, following, and after each name in the PERSONAL PROPERTY portion of this Delinquent Tax List for 1904 and for the County of Alameda, were intended to and do represent respectively in Dollars and Cents, or in Dollars and Cents as the case may be, the amount due for taxes and costs in manner as follows, to wit: When or where TWO FIGURES appear thereon CENTS were intended to be and are represented; when or where MORE THAN TWO FIGURES thus appear thereon, CENTS were intended to be and are represented by the last two figures occupying and appearing at THE RIGHT HAND, and the figures occupying and appearing at the LEFT HAND of the said LAST TWO FIGURES, were separate therefrom by a space, were intended to and do represent DOLLARS; so that the amount due for TAXES AND COSTS in the respective cases aforesaid, are thus expressed in Dollars and Cents.

JAMES B. BARBER,

Tax Collector of the County of Alameda. Dated at Oakland, this 5th day of June, 1905.
